ABANDONS PLAN TO LIMIT SPEECH AT DES MOINES

Chicago, Sept. 26. (AP)—As hurried as the business trips of a busy industrial executive, so will be the campaign tours of Herbert Hoover.

Spokesmen at Republican campaign headquarters here outlined plans today under which they said the president would budget his campaign and speed by special train into the midwest for two speeches and to the New England states for another.

The first of the addresses is scheduled for October 4 at Des Moines. His other midwest address, it was said, would be in either Minneapolis or Cleveland. Boston is under consideration as the scene of the third.

For the 1,100 mile journey to Des Moines, the president will be absent from his desk in Washington only about 60 hours. There will be no stops enroute, and platform appearances at railroad stations will be held to a minimum.

"Pressing affairs at Washington make it necessary for Mr. Hoover to spend every possible hour on the job of being president," said Harrison E. Spangler, national committeeman from Iowa, today upon returning from conferences with President Hoover in the capital.

To Refute Roosevelt

It was announced that the presidents speech at Des Moines probably would be the major one of his personal campaign. Original plans to limit to the problems peculiar to the agricultural midwest were abandoned, it was said, because of national interest aroused in the presidential race by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's extended tour.

It was indicated the president's first campaign address would include utterances on every major issue, and perhaps answers to some of the remarks by Roosevelt regarding agricultural relief, regulations of public utilities, railroad problems and programs for general economic recovery.

Word has been received that Iowa campaign directors plan to make the Des Moines address one of the largest political gatherings in Iowa's history. Two halls have been provided in case weather prevents the address being given outside; the president's words in either hall to be carried to the other by radio.

Party workers have begun arrangements for special trains to carry delegations from scores of cities and towns in the midwest to Des Moines. One of the most enthusiastic delegations will be from Hoover's boyhod town of West Branch, Ia.

The Des Moines address will be at 7:30 p. m. Central Standard Time over a nation wide radio hookup.

Compromise Accepted, Gandhi Ends His Fast

Poona, India, Sept. 26. (AP)—With a few sips of Musambi, a sweet lime juice concoction, Mahatma Gandhi today brought to an end his "fast unto death" to which he had held for six days and five hours and from which his physicians declared he would recover.

Conditional acceptance by the British government of a compromise electoral system drawn up by representatives of caste Hindus and the untouchables was the factor which impelled the Mahatma to take food again. Since last Tuesday noon he had lived on water with salt or soda.

Condition Piteous

During the tedious hours just before he released himself from his vow, the Mahatma was in piteous condition. Friends gathered about his cot in the Yeroda jail and did their utmost to relieve him.

He received frequent messages. He had several injections and submitted to a native treatment of mud plasters applied to the head. But food he would not take until word came that the London government had approved a voting system designed to meet his objctions against perfecting the great gulf which separates caste Hindus from the 60,000,000 members of India's depressed classes. And even then he delayed further in order that he might pray.

The Mahatma was so weak his wife had to lift him up on his cot in the Yeroda jail compound while he read the official announcement that the government in London had accepted the compromise.

When he had finished reading he lifted his head, smiled, and murmured to a doctor, "This will be acceptable."

The Mahatma's purpose in going on the hunger strike was to protest against an electoral system which he considered would perpetuate the gulf between the caste Hindus and the depressed classes. He particularly objected to the provision for separate untouchable electorates which were to exist for twenty years.

The compromise plan provides that 148 seats in provincial legislatures be held by the depressed classes and that a percentage of seats in the central legislature be reserved for them. It also provides a system of primary elections. These special features are to end after ten years.

In accepting this plan the British government pointed out that some details still remained under consideration. The official statement said this did not imply opposition by the government.

BROOKHART ON THIRD TICKET

Iowa Senator Will Try To Hold Seat as "Progressive"

Washington, Iowa, Sept. 26. (AP)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart, for eight years a storm center of Iowa and national politics, returned to the political wars today as a third party nominee for reelection.

Defeated for the Republican nomination by Henry Field, Shenandoah seed realer and radio station operator, in a scorching primary fight last spring, Brookhart announced his candidacy today on the "progressive" ticket.

That was the name decided upon by the backers organized to put Brookhart's name in the field.

They met in convention here today to organize the party whose sponsors hope to make it a permanent organization with the purpose, according to Frank J. Lund of Webster City, keynote speaker, of fighting "against peasantry and economic slavery of the great mass of common folks."

Before the formal nomination was made, Brookhart, in answer to queries as to whether he would run, said: "Sure, this rebellion is too sweet for me to keep out Why I have ten thousand signed pledges already."

The Democratic nominee is Louis J. Murphy of Dubuque, who has been campaigning on a prohibition repeal program. Field has announced his acquiescence to the Republican national platform on the prohibition question Brookhart is a militant dry.

Explosion Aboard French Submarine Kills Two Seamen

Cherbourg, France, Sept. 26. (AP)—An explosion aboard the new French submarine Persee during a trial run off Cherbourg today killed two seamen and injured 30 others, three of them critically. Six of the injured were seriously burned and 22 suffered minor hurts or burns.

The explosion was in the outer sheathing of the engines. It was followed by fire which was quickly brought under control by the crew. A call for assistance was sent out immediately and within a short time naval tugs had the submersible in tow and doctors went aboard to treat the injured.

The Persee is of the same type as the submarine Promethee which sank off Cherbourg last July with a loss of more than 60 lives.

Derailment Causes Huge Gasoline Fire

Alpena, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Four tank cars carrying 40,000 gallons of gasoline, and a baggage car burned today after one of the cars had been derailed on the Detroit and Mackinac railroad. The intense heat warped the rails and burned ties for a distance of half a mile.

John Baillargon, Alpena, brakeman, and Joseph Gettling, Bay City, express messenger, were slightly injured. There were no passengers in the single day coach attached to the train.

Buick To Enlarge Force This Winter

Flint, Sept. 26 (AP)—C. B. Stiffler, assistant to the president of the Buick Motor company here, said Monday that 550 additional men beside the regular force will be employed this winter. The additional employment, he said, will follow the bringing to Flint of manufacture of parts for the Olds Motor company from a Muncie, Ind., plant.

Fire Destroys Hay Sheds And Elevator

Columbus, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Elevator and hay sheds of the Columbus Elevator company were destroyed by fire Monday at an estimated loss of $15,000. Fire started in the engine room of the elevator.

IRISH LEADER WARNS LEAGUE

DeValera Says it Must Prove Itself Worthy Before Public

Geneva, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Eamon De Valera of the Irish Free State opened the thirteenth annual assembly of the League of Nations today with a declaration that if the league is to meet its responsibilities as the guardian of world peace it must pursue a uniform policy toward both weak and strong nations.

Mr. De Valera told the assembly that the league had been criticized as impotent and decadent. Much of this criticism is justified, he asserted, and the league now may be considered as a defendant "at the bar of public opinion."

After Mr. De Valera had addressed the league assembly, five constituent committees were organized and officers were elected. The customary disarmanent committee was eliminated, as that problem is being worked out at the disarmament conference.

Nicholas Politis, Greece's representative and a supporter of French policies, was chosen assembly president, with 44 out of 50 votes.

The assembly recognized the presence of the new member, Turkey, by electing Foreign Minister Tewfik Rushdi Bey as chairman of the agenda committee.

Al Smith Will Aid Coolidge In Probe Of Rail Situation

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Herald Tribune says that Calvin Coolidge in accepting the chairmanship of the non-partisan railroad commission tomorrow or Wednesday will be joined by Alfred E. Smith, Bernard M. Baruch, Clark Howell and Alexander Legge.

Baruch, the only railroad man on the commission, is a director of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; Howell is editor of the Atlanta Constitution; and Legge is president of the International Harvester company and a former chairman of the federal farm board.

Five Youths Held On Robbery Charge

Grand Rapids, Sept. 26 (AP)—John Jablonski, 19, high school football player, and four companions are held here on charges of robbing a restaurant of $30. Police said Jablonski and his companions, William Porter, 21; George Burgess, 19; George LaFave, 19, and Robert Scott, 22, had confessed.

STATE DEMOS SEE VICTORY IN NOVEMBER

CONVENTION TODAY; CONSIDER STACK AS NOMINEE

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Michigan Democrats swung into the fray of the campaign here tonight shouting that victory is assured in November.

In a pre-convention banquet state leaders and a speaker sent here by national headquarters asserted the fight is won. They criticized the state and national Republican administration, and assailed the stand of the opposing party on prohibition, the tariff and taxation.

Tuesday the Democrats, in their state convention, will round out their ticket by nominating candidates for secretary of state, state treasurer, auditor general and attorney general. Contests were on for nearly every place, as compared to a paucity of candidates in less favorable years which forced the party to draft its nominees.

Prohibition Fight

William A. Comstock, candidate for governor, and other organization heads, hoped to avoid or soften the usual Democratic fight over resolutions. The huge Wayne county delegation and many outstate delegates, were prepared to press for affirmation of the national platform favoring repeal of the prohibition amendment and immediate modification, but some delegates favoring prohibition hinted they might demand a floor argument. Conferences were under way in an effort to keep the bonus issue off the floor.

The spirit of the gathering, which was the largest and most enthusiastic in a long time, was voiced by Edward Frensdorf of Hudson, veteran campaigner.

"There no longer is any doubt of the outcome," he said. "Michigan is Democratic in November. In other years Democratic campaign meetings scarcely were attended. Now there are more Democrats on the platform than there were then in the audience."

He praised Comstock and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the presidential nominee, and said the election of Congressman Michael J. Hart, in the eighth district, last year, marked the turning point in the swing from Republicanism to Democracy.

Congressman Hart attacked the Republican tariff and the administration stand on national legislation. Comstock told his listeners that this is the most hopeful campaign in his twenty years of experience. He said reports from every section of the state carry encouraging news of support for the Democratic state ticket.

Hemphill Is Speaker

John Hemphill, of Pennsylvania, assigned to the convention banquet by national Democratic headquarters, said:

"Michigan and Pennsylvania are the most incorrigible Republican states. If these two states fall the arch of Republicanism is gone and that party will find itself in the scrap heap."

He praised the Democratic stand on prohibition as "forthright, straight-forwarded and clear" and charged the Republicans with attempting to straddle, with President Hoover "to be the wets' nurse and the vice president to keep the drys contended." He declared Republican industrial leaders are parading their employment lists back and forth across the stage to give a fictitious picture of business revival.

The convention proper will be called to order at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Leaders had much to do before the convention.

It was presumed that Comstock, who polled the heaviest vote ever given a Democratic candidate in a primary election, will have a weighty voice in the de-

Lady's Life Savings Stolen By Roomer

Cadillac, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Police here are searching for the robber who fled Sunday with more than $31,000 the life savings of Mrs. Cora Jorneau, after engaging a room at her home. Mrs. Jorneau said the loot was made up of more than $30,000 in securities and $1,000 in cash.

Menazippe Perron Killed While Cleaning Shotgun

Menazippe Perron, 70, former mayor of Escanaba and prominent lumberman and business man, was suddenly killed when a shotgun, which he was cleaning in preparation for a hunting trip, accidentally discharged at his home, 1117 Ludington street, last night.

Every fall, it was Mr. Perron's custom to go hunting at Napoleon Labre's camp at Section 13, and he was contemplating going out again to hunt rabbits and partridge when the season opened Oct. 1. He related his hunting plans to his nephew, Edward Perron, during the evening, and when the latter left to go home he told him he would clean the gun before retiring. While on his way home, Edward recalled that he had forgotten a parcel at the place, and returning there he found his uncle lying dead on the floor.

Born In Ontario

Mr. Perron was born in Clarence Creek, Ontario, July 1, 1862. He was married fifty years ago to Denise LaFleur at Clarence Creek, and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last July. Soon after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Perron came to the upper peninsula.

For about forty years, Mr. Perron conducted extensive operations in the vicinity of Perronville, which community was named for him. He operated a sawmill there for several years, and during the nineties he bought all the timber that was produced by jobbers on the Felch branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Perron moved to Escanaba from Perronville about thirty years ago, although he continued his lumbering operations. While here, he engaged in other business endeavors, being one of the organizers of the Boston Store, the Wolverine Motor company and the Escanaba Morning Press company.

For many years, he was a leading figure in local politics. He served as mayor of Escanaba from 1905 to 1909, and also was supervisor for several years.

A Leading Citizen

Mr. Perron was a member of St. Anne's church of this city, and fraternally was identified with the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He was well known throughout the county, and was recognized as one of the substantial citizens of the community.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three adopted children, William Perron, Milwaukee; Mrs. Ovida Laviolette, Escanaba; Mrs. W. J. Roberge, Wilson; three brothers, Joseph, Marenisco; Mose, Clarence Creek, Ont.; Desoteles Perron, Rockland, Ont., and one sister, Mrs. Eugenia Guindon, Hawkesberry, Ont.

The body was taken to Allo's Funeral Home to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

ONE-MAN JURY PROBE STARTED

Michigan State College Investigation Will Be Sweeping

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Eight witnesses today testified before Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr at the opening of the one man grand jury investigation of Michigan State college and the Michigan State Institute of Music and Allied Arts.

Coincident with the opening of the jury inquiry, Joseph A. Baldwin, of Albion, special assistant attorney general, assumed charge of a separate investigation by a committee of the state board of agriculture. He established his office in the college administration building and said the committee inquiry will "go beyond the consideration of possible criminal liability."

Five of the witnesses testifying at the grand jury probe are members of the college staff while the others are former members of the faculty or the music institute.

John Wendell Bird, prosecuting attorney, announced that eleven witnesses will be called Tuesday, including four of the five persons who signed the complaint requesting the grand jury. The fifth signer, Ronald Beurmann, of East Lansing, requested the prosecutor to erase his signature from the document, Bird revealed.

Witnesses Called

Those testifying today were: Joseph F. Cox, dean of agriculture; James B. Hasselman, director of publications; Dr. E. T. Hallman, professor of animal pathology; H. H. Musselman, professor of agriculture engineering; C. O. Wilkins, college comptroller; Mrs. H. Merton Clark, former teacher at the music institute; Walter F. Reddy, East Lansing councilman and formerly with the college; and Izler Solomon, a violinist and former employe of the institute.

Witnesses called for tomorrow are: Dr. Ward Giltner, dean of bacteriology; Dr. E. H. Ryder, dean of liberal arts; Robert S. Hudson, assistant professor of animal husbantry; Robert J. Coleman, secretary and business manager of the music institute; Frederick W. Dodge, construction engineer; Bernard Proulx, assistant to the dean of liberal arts; Dewey A. Seeley, U. S. metereologist; T. G. Phillips, Detroit real estate operator; and the four signers of the complaint—Cleve Beach, Mrs. Wirt Johnson, Albert J. Austin, and Mrs. Nettie M. Howard.

"The scope of our investigation will not duplicate the work of the grand jury," Baldwin said of the inquiry launched by the board of agriculture. "We expect to go beyond the consideration of possible criminal liability and determine if there are any irregularities not within the jurisdiction of the grand jury. The investigation will not be a whitewash."

Baldwin was unable to estimate the time the committee investigation will take.

Twin Boys Saved From Gas and Water

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Donald and George Peters, Jr., twin sons of George Peters, were recovering today from near-asphxyiation after turning on five gas jets in the kitchen stove and all the water faucets in the kitchen while their father went to a nearby grocery store. Peters found the children unconscious, lying in two inches of water. A police rescue squad revived them.

Judge Considering Detective's Case

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Recorders Judge John P. Scallen, who heard the examination Monday of Detective Vincent B. Hoesel on a charge of killing David Cantor, a confessed burglar, will state Tuesday whether or not Hoesel will be tried for manslaughter as a result of the shooting. Police claim Cantor was shot when he attempted to escape while the defense introduced a dying statement of Cantor's to the effect that the police beat and shot him without cause.

CABINET CRISIS FACES ENGLAND

King Will Return from Holiday in Scotland On Friday

London, Sept. 26 (AP)—King George, whose holiday in Scotland last year was interrupted by the cabinet crisis which resulted in the formation of the national government, will repeat himself this year by returning to London on Friday, it was announced today.

On Wednesday the cabinet will hold a crucial meeting at which the tariff agreements reached at the Ottawa imperial conference will come up for final discussion. In political circles it is assumed the free trade Liberals in the ministry, headed by Home Secretary Sir Herbert Samuel, will resign because they cannot reconcile the Ottawa agreements with their anti-tariff beliefs.

A year ago the king played a quiet but important part in the dramatic political events which resulted in the death of the Labor cabinet and the retention of Ramsay MacDonald as prime minister at the head of a government composed of Conservative, Labor and Liberal members.

Efforts were being made today by the Conservative ministers to persuade their Liberal colleagues to remain in the administration.

Although the matter never was publicly announced, it was widely reported last fall that the king played a decisive part in the formation of the National government.

These reports led to an attack on the king by H. G. Wells in a speech last July at the Oxford Liberal summer school. Such criticism is most infrequent in Great Britain, and Mr. Wells' auditors heard him in silence.

"The king was so ill-advised as to depart from his proper political and social neutrality and to lead the movement for cheese-paring and grinding the faces of the needy in the interests of the debt collector," Mr. Wells said.

Wife's Complaint Leads Officers To Moonshine Stills

Benton Harbor, Sept. 26 (AP)—E. C. Fryer's wife informed the sheriff's office this morning that her husband had become intoxicated and beat her. The sheriff arrested Fryer at her request, and in searching the Fryer home, reported the discovery of two stills in the basement. Now Fryer is held on a liquor law violation charge, too.

"SHOW HOOVER," IS CRY IN IOWA

AGED ESCANABA RESIDENT LOST

Magnus Mattson Missing Since Sunday; Police Officers Search

Sheriff's department officers and Escanaba city police have been searching the sparsely settled area in the vicinity of Escanaba for Magnus Mattson, 77, father of Mrs. W. F. Breitenbach, 1407 Sheridan Road, who disappeared Sunday morning.

Mr. Mattson was last seen about 9:10 o'clock in the morning, standing on a corner near the Breitenbach home, where he resides with his daughter. When he failed to return to the house search for him was started, continuing through Sunday night and Monday.

Mr. Mattson was attired in street clothes, a sweater and blue suit, but was wearing bedroom slippers. He has been in poor health for several months, his illness affecting his memory, and it is feared that he may be wandering about, unable to direct anyone to his people.

He is described as having grey hair and mustache, weight about 150 pounds, 5 ft 7 or 8 inches tall. With his dark suit, he was wearing a chocolate colored sweater and cap and grey bedroom slippers.

The search conducted Sunday and Monday by local officers failed to reveal a trace of the aged man, though one report was that a man of that description had been seen walking down the railroad tracks. Officers in nearby districts were also notified.

Murphy Criticizes Prohibition Law In Speech To Brewers

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Master Brewers Association of America, holding its annual convention here, today heard Mayor Frank Murphy declare prohibition to be "a graphic example of artificial and unreasonable interference with personal liberty" and insist that an immediate amendment of the law is necessary.

Declaring that "whatever corrections we have to make in the present legislature, whatever amendments we have to make, should be done fortwith and without delay," the mayor termed prohibition a "club force" which was enacted "in defiance of our best judgment."

"At the beginning of the prohibition movement in this country, a great many sincere people had some hopes in the efficacy of prohibition" the mayor told the assemblage. "But prohibition has brought into this country only hypocricy and deceit, and there are judges and other people in high places who are punishing others for what the community itself is doing and believes."

The mayor described himself as one who never violated the prohibition law since he has been a public official.

Street Car Lines Ordered Dissolved

Marshall, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Circuit Judge Blaine W. Hatch Monday ordered the Battle Creek Transportation company, operating Battle Creek street car lines, "immediately dissolved," and gave the company until Friday to cease operating cars in the city. John F. Collins, temporary receiver, was made permanent receiver. A new bus company recently was organized in the city.

WALKER GIVEN BAD POUNDING IN 8TH ROUND

BATTLE IS STOPPED; MICKEY CARRIES FOUR ROUNDS

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Madison Square Garden Bowl, New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The punishing power in Max Schmeling's deadly right hand abruptly checked the heavyweight surge of gallant Mickey Walker tonight and gave the German heavyweight a technical knockout victory over the chunky little Irishman after eight sensational rounds of a 15 round match.

In a dramatic and unusual finish, the fight was stopped after the bell ended the eighth round with Walker so badly cut and bleeding around the eyes that he was unable to continue.

Walker Badly Beaten

Knocked down twice for counts of six and nine seconds in the eighth, Walker staggered to his corner with his left eye tightly closed, his right eye cut, gashes about his nose and mouth. Without hesitation his veteran manager, Jack Kearns, accepted defeat for the fighting Irishman, and notified Referee Jack Denning, who immediately awarded the decision to Schmeling.

In effect Walker was "stopped," the victim of his first technical knockout since he was halted by Joe Dundee after previously losing the world welterweight title to Pete Latzo.

A crowd estimated by Promoter James J. Johnston at 55,000, contributing to gate receipts of about $175,000, saw Walker battered to shreds in the eighth round by Schmeling's spectacular right hand attack after a spirited rally had carried the fighting Irishman back from the verge of being knocked out in the very first round.

Walker was knocked down for a six count with a terrific right hander to the jaw in the opening round, cut about the mouth and otherwise battered as a result of his over-confidence in trying to swap punches at long range with the German. Safely past this spot, Mickey rallied so effectively, carrying the fight to close quarters and punishing Max's body, that he took four of the next six rounds and appeared to have the upper hand when the fatal eighth started.

German Befuddled

It looked as if Schmeling had been slowed up by Walker's body punches in the third, fourth, fifth and seventh rounds. The German was backing off, befuddled by Mickey's rushes, trying to regain his bearings. The barrel-chested little Irishman himself appeared confident he had taken the steam out of his rival's right hand, for at the outset of the eighth he again decided to risk a free-swinging exchange.

From under his chin, Schmeling's right hand lashed out suddenly and caught Mickey squarely on the right temple. It was a short blow, traveling not more than a foot, but it had dynamite in it. Walker bounded back, dazed and reeled into the ropes. Another short right connected and Mickey hit the floor, rolling over on one side.

Up after a count of six, his left eye beginning to close and blood pouring from a cut in his mouth, Walker gamely lashed back at his rival, Schmeling closed cautiously, then quickly seized a fresh opening and landed his right to the chin with telling effect. Mickey rolled off the ropes to the floor, turned a half somersault and landed with his nose in the resin, on all fours.

Rushes Instinctively

He regained one knee and this time took a count of nine before coming up. He rushed back at Schmeling with all the fury of a bulldog. Half blinded and so groggy he didn't appear to know

STAGE RODEO FOR ROOSEVELT

Candidate Gives Short Talk to Crowd at Williams, Ariz.

BULLETIN

Williams, Ariz., Sept. 26. (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's special train left here at 10:25 p. m., M. S. T., for Albuquerque, N. M.

Williams, Ariz., Sept. 26. (AP)—With his special train set on a siding in a little lumber and cattle town, Franklin D. Roosevelt spent today at the Greenway ranch resting, watching a specially arranged rodeo and making a brief talk to the thousand or more other invited guests.

He left the train last night to motor to the ranch, a few miles from Williams, where Mrs. Roosevelt joined him after making the trip from Albany by train, airplane and motor car.

Tomorrow Rosevelt goes to Albuquerque and Lamy, N. M., on the next leg of his long journey back to Albany.

The Democratic presidential nominee received a report by Cornelius Vanderbilt of an editorial survey he is making of sentiment in the country.

Vanderbilt, who has traveled many thousands of miles already in the partially completed survey in which he is talking with newspaper editors and political leaders, said that of the states he had visited so far the ones principally in doubt were Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wyoming, Arkansas and Vermont.

Manufacturer Of Detroit Succumbs

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—John Trix, dean of Detroit manufacturers and founder of the American Injector Co., of which he was president, died this afternoon in his summer home at Algonac. He was 83 years old.

He, the late Joseph Boyer, founder of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., and the late Henry M. Leland, pioneer automobile manufacturer, were considered the triumvirate that contributed perhaps the most to growth of Detroit into a world center.

His contribution was not only the expansion of his own industrial interests but active assistance in public undertakings.

Death was from a heart attack and came unexpectedly, although he had been in ill health for nine months.

Farmers' Outlook Much Better Now

Adrian, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Elmer A. Beamer, of Blissfield, chairman of the National Livestock Marketing Association's executive committee, said in a statement today that the outlook for the farmer is brighter than in many months.

Price increases in cattle and hogs, he said, have more than a seasonal aspect. He attributed the rise in cattle prices to the fact that there are fewer cattle available for feeder purposes and to the additional fact that present low prices for meat place it within the reach of persons with small incomes.

The increase in hog prices, he said, will be of a gradual permanent nature, with some seasonal decline but not as severe as was experienced a year ago.

Prisoner Probably Will Get Freedom

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—The suicide of Henry M. Brown, former cashier of the Memphis (Mich.) State Bank seemed destined today to result in the freeing of Stanley Kolasinski, who is serving a prison sentence for bank robbery on Brown's identification.

Judge Neil E. Reid, who sentenced Kolasinski and Harry Lasky following their conviction of robbing the Memphis bank in 1927, said today he would recommend the immediate release of Kolasinski an dthe cancellation of the remainder of Lasky's parole. Both offered alibis at their trial but those were outweighed by Brown's identification.

Detroit To Toledo Service Continued

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—John F. Collins, receiver of the Eastern Michigan-Toledo railroad, said Monday that service will be continued on the line from Detroit to Toledo, following a meeting of officials last week, at which a decision to continue was reached.

Seek Lower Power Rates In Houghton

Lansing, Sept. 26 (AP)—A petition asking that the rates of the Houghton County Electric company be reduced was filed with the state public utilities commission here Monday. The company serves Houghton, Hancock, Lake Linden and Laurium.

Chicago Man Held On Forgery Charge

Battle Creek, Sept. 26 (AP)—Max Kern, Chicago, arrested here Saturday is scheduled for arraignment in justice court on charges of uttering and publishing worthless checks and forging the name of the cashier of the Michigan Central railroad.

STATE DEMOS SEE VICTORY IN NOVEMBER

liberations. He was largely responsible for the adoption of the repeal plank by the national Democratic convention in Chicago. There was little doubt that the convention will go on record as favoring the pre-primary system, which the Democrats have used for several years, and there was talk of going farther and advocating abolition of the primary election altogether.

Stack Is Considered

From two to six aspirants were seeking every one of the state ticket nominations. Those in the running for secretary of state were Burnett J. Abbott, of Saginaw, said to have the backing of Congressman Michael J. Hart, John J. Barc, of Dearborn, favored by some Detroit leaders, and F. E. Thatcher, of Jackson. Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo, defeated candidate for the party nomination for governor, was talked of as the nominee for attorney general, but Frank A. Picard, of Saginaw, William Neithercutt, Flint, Edward M. Sharpe, of Bay City, Charles F. Hemans, Detroit and S. B. Schurtz, Grand Rapids also were urged for the place. David Uhl, Grand Rapids, Frank Merrick, Bad Axe, T. L. Frye, Newaygo and E. B. Stebbins, Carson City, were prospective candidates for state treasurer. By common consent it was agreed tentatively, that the nominee for auditor general shall come from the upper peninsula with John Stack, of Escanaba the favorite.

American Balloon Is Believed To Be Winner In Europe

Basel, Switzerland, Sept. 26 (AP)—One of the two American balloons tonight was believed to be the victor in the classic James Gordon Bennett cup race, after all the other entrants had been reported grounded.

These were the United States Navy craft, piloted by Commander E. G. W. Settle, which was last sighted on the outskirts of Warsaw, and the "Goodyear No. 8," unreported since the take-off from Basel yesterday.

The only other balloon known to have gone about as far as Warsaw was the oPlish bag "Gdynia," which travelled 1076 kilometers or about 640 miles to Bielany, near Warsaw, where it was grounded at 10:05 a. m.

Westinghouse Gives Large Copper Order

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—E. A. Merrick, president of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., announced today that his company had placed orders for 4,000,000 pounds of copper, an amount "far in excess of current general business demands."

This large scale commitment, Mr. Merrick asserted, was influenced by "sound economic factors" and a "firm belief that business had turned the corner," as well as by a desire to stimulate employment in the basic industries.

"The world isn't finished," his statement said, "and as electricity plays such a large part in our lives we are hopeful that even these large reserves of copper will shortly need replenishment."

Burglars Get $300 Loot from Church

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Burglars who entered the First Presbyterian church at Woodward avenue and Edmund place Sunday night stole the day's collection, estimated to contain from $300 to $400. The burglars failed to break into the safe.

$100,000 Damages Requested In Suit

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Suit for $100,000 damages against Patrolmen William Hinze and John Proch was filed today by Jessie Crowell, administratrix of the estate of Edgar Crowell, who was wounded fatally Sept. 2 by Patrolman Hinze. A coroner's jury exonerated the patrolmen who said Crowell disregarded a command to remove his hands from his pockets when they halted him.

BEGIN WORK IN NEW BUILDING

Hoover In Ceremonies as Cornerstone Is Laid On Federal Project

BY JAMES P. SALVAGE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—Far removed from the days of pony express, the cornerstone was laid today for a huge, stone postoffice department building.

The rat-a-tat-tat of the riveters' hammer on steel beams paused while President Hoover paid tribute to the "unfailing fidelity" of the postal service at the ceremony which also marked the 143rd anniversary of the department.

The magnificient new structure at Eleventh and Pennsylvania avenue—in the shadow of the gray hulk which the department has outgrown—is a part of the triangle development to house activities of the government, extending along the famous avenue from Fifteenth street to the capital. The building is to cost $10,000,000.

Tribute to Employes

With the red-coated Marine band in the background, hundreds of government officials, members of congress and other official guests gathered for the ceremony on specially constructed stands.

President Hoover, departing from his prepared text, said: "This building is a part of the great national construction program which we have undertaken for the dual purpose of more economic housing of federal activities and of providing employment for the country. It is a part of the sound policy of speeding the growth of government facilities in time of depression."

Later in another interpolation which the chief executive wrote into his text while he sat on the platform, he paid tribute to "the willingness and zeal with which all postal employes have joined in the plan for sharing work in the establishment during these times so that the service shall hold its personnel and that none shall be deprived of employment."

While not referring directly to the annual postal deficit, which increased rates this year are designed to curtail, President Hoover said the "postal establishment is an instrumentality which exists to serve all the people and which in its proper sphere should require little or no support from the public treasury."

Directed Verdict Is Denied Davis

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Efforts to get a directed verdict of acquittal for Senator James J. Davis in his fraternal lottery trial failed today when Federal District Judge Frank J. Coleman ruled that the prosecution, which rested its case before noon, had made telling points against the senator.

Informed thus it must disprove points in the state's case, charging Davis with conspiracy and a part in the transportation of lottery tickets across state lines, the defense launched a brisk attack with its first witness, Fred W. Jones, shown by the prosecution to have power of attorney for Davis.

Jones declared he and Joseph Jenkins, also called an agent of Davis by the prosecution, had taken over the so-called "organization department" of the Loyal Order of Moose from Davis, in August, 1930.

This was presented to support the defense contention Senator Davis knew nothing o fthe department or its activities from that time forward, and nothing about the alleged lottery conducted in 1930 and 1931 by the Moose order in connection with charity balls.

Porto Rico Struck By Tropical Storm

Washington, Sept. 27 (Tuesday) (AP)—Commander J. H. Ingram of the office of naval communications early today said communication with the navy radio station at San Juan, Porto Rico, had been broken presumably by a tropical storm.

Ingram said the last report from San Juan to the navy said a hurricane was "coming on" with its center in that vicinity. Ingram added he had no reports of any loss of life or serious property damage.

Injunctions in School Dispute are Numerous

Royal Oak, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Life is just a bowl of injunctions for the residents of Madison school district here—particularly the school teachers, who don't know which of three sets of superintendents they should obey.

There has been a shower of injunctions, followed by suits and counter-suits in circuit court, ever since the opening of the Madison school. Today the injunction fever rose to a climax, and Oakland county deputies were called to preserve order.

It all started last spring, when Mrs. Aline G. Moegle was given a four year contract as superintendent, at increased pay. The contract became an issue in the school board election, and a faction hostile to Mrs. Moegle won. The new borad cancelled her contract, and named William R. Spriegel as superintendent.

Mrs. Moegle got the jump on Spriegel, however, obtained an injunction and opened school September 6 with teachers whose contracts in the main had been rescinded by the new board. Other injunctions followed in profusion, and the new board several times discharged Mrs. Moegle, but had little success in ousting her from the school.

Sunday Mrs. Moegle got another injunction restraining Spriegel from taking over his duties. Thereupon the school board, to forestall her, met at 4:30 a. m. Monday and voted to ask for still another injunction designed to keep her off the school property. Also, they appointed a third superintendent—Ed. L. Williams, president of the board.

A few mintues later the deputies were called when Williams reported a taxpayer had thrsatened him. The children were sent home, but later recalled, and Mrs. Foege continued her teaching, declaring that "court orders mean nothing to me."

"I think I'll carry a gun tomorrow," said Mrs. Moegle.

Munising Gridders Defeat Marquette City Team, 6 to 0

Munising, Sept. 26 (Special)—Displaying an improved offensive, Munising's Northern Sportsmen football team ploughed steadily through a fighting Marquette squad Sunday to win a fast and interesting contest 6-0. The Queen City backfield found most of their plays halted at the line of scrimmage by the heavy Alger line and were forced on the defensive during most of the game. After a scoreless first quarter Munising began a ground gaining campaign that ended when Savoie rushed 45 yards on an off-tackle reverse for the first touchdown. Depew's attempted dropkick went wide.

Twice after the Alger club had the Marquette warriors in the shadow of their goal but failed to score in the face of an inspired defense on both occasions. Munising made eleven first downs to the visitors three and completed five passes in nine attempts. Marquette completed two, the others being knocked down or intercepted by the Alger secondary. "Bull" Jackson, flashy Marquette fullback, was the defensive star for his club while George Ferrari, former Michigan State luminary, performed brilliantly at right tackle for the Sportsmen.

B. & P. W. Clubs to Meet In Munising

The district meeting of the Business and Profesional Women's club will be held in Munising on October 1 and 2, at which more than 150 members of the upper peninsula clubs are expected to attend.

Saturday afternoon will be spent in a sight seeing trip when such beauty points as Pictured Rocks, Miners, Tannery, Munising and Wagner Falls will be visited. In the evening a banquet will be given at the convention headquarters at Beach Inn at which Miss Elba L. Morse will preside as toastmistress. Miss Morse is supervisor of the Northern Children's Clinic at Marquette.

Breakfast will be served from 8:30 to 9:30 and then the business meeting will be called in the hotel lobby, Mrs. Hornbogen, district president presiding. At this time an address will be given by the state president and a report of the activities will be given by each club president.

Forest Plot Dedicated

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the forest plot financed by the club will be dedicated, the plot being located six miles south of Wetmore. At this event conservation and other speakers will tell of forest work and a musical program is also planned.

The committee in charge of the meeting is comprised of Mildred Feldhausen of Munising, Elizabeth Hall of Newberry, and Elba L. Morse of Marquette.

CHANGE OF TIME

Train No. 13 which has been leaving Munising at 12:20 to connect with No. 1 on South Shore at Munising Junction will now leave at 12:35, this change being caused by a change of time on the South Shore.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Ruggles spent the week-end at Manitowoc, Wis., with Mrs. Ruggles' parents.

Mayor C. G. Kemp, County Clerk Thos. N. Hannah, County Engineer George L. Depew and J. J. Keeton left yesterday for Lansing and Detroit.

Charles Hancock and wife of Manistique and Mrs. J. J. Spencer of Germfask spent Sunday with William Hancock and family.

The Monday Drama club will meet with Mrs. T. E. Roe, Oct. 3, at 2:30, at her home on East Chocolay street.

The Women's Auxiliary, formerly St. John's Guild, of the Episcopal church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. H. Monsson, East Onota street tomorrow at 2:30.

Miss Venita Garrow and Sam Ekhardt, who have been visiting here with Miss Garrow's parents, left Sunday for Muskegon.

Mrs. Edith Masters of East Munising met with a very painful accident last Saturday afternoon. She was descending the stairway to the basement in her home, carrying some fruit jars, when she missed a step and fell a distance of about seven feet to the cement floor. She nearly severed the little finger of her right hand with broken glass and badly sprained both wrists. She also received a severe cut across her left cheek. She remained lying on the basement floor unconscious for some time before she was able to summon help and a doctor's attention.

O. G. Hanson left Saturday for Ishpeming on a visit to his son, Morris. From there he left for Chicago where he has accepted a position as chef for a department of the University of Chicago.

John H. Schwartz and Paul LaFond, of the Cheboygan Boiler works were in the city Sunday and stopped off on a visit to relatives, proceeding on to L'Anse.

Edward Dobbs and daughter, Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dobbs of Negaunee have returned home. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tromblay over the week-end.

Mrs C. G. Kemp and daughters, Ruth and Esther, were visitors at Gladstone Saturday.

Mrs. Louise Wrona of Melstrand, aged 44 years, died at the Ann Arbor University hospital last Saturday, where she had been a patient for the past three weeks. The funeral will be held tomorrow forenoon at 9 o'clock from Sacred Heart church, Rev. P. F. Manderfield officiating. She is survived by her husband, three sons and three daughters. The sons are Joseph, Charles and Carl. The daughters are Ellen, Mary and Jennie.

Farmers Will Seek Debts Moratorium

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—Lem Harris, executive secretary of the Farmers' national conference, an outgrowth of the agricultural holiday movement in the mid-west, said in a statement issued today that at least 500 farmers will assemble here in December to demand of congress a moratorium on their debts.

Harris said caravans bringing disgruntled tillers of the soil have been called to start their march to the capital in time of arrive here with the convening of congress.

Harris emphasized, however, that they will come only as accredited delegates for a conference extending from December 7 to 10 and then will depart.

WALKER GIVEN BAD POUNDING IN 8TH ROUND

what was going on, Walker still had enough fighting instinct left to keep swinging. He so completely tied up Schmeling that the German was unable to connect effectively again before the bell.

After the fight Walker said the blow that proved most damaging was a right uppercut that bounced off his cheek, hit his left eye and put it out of commission. Thereafter, Walker said, there were at least three Schmelings in front of him.

Schmeling displayed his big punch in only two of the eight rounds, the first and eighth, but it was entirely too much for even so seasoned a warrior as Walker. Mickey was able to hold his own and frequently outbox the German so long as he kept in close, working his left to the body and blocking Schmeling's rights with his elbow or shoulder.

Schmeling also won the second and sixth rounds, on the Associated Press score sheet, thereby making the score exactly even—four and four—so far as the rounds were concerned but that didn't happen to be the payoff.

Headed for Sharkey?

Walker's best rounds were the fifth and seventh, in both of which he chased his bigger and heavier opponent around the ring with short, effective punches to the head and body. The big crowd, bundled in furs and overcoats, cheered the little man as he outboxed and outgeneralled Schmeling but there was obviously little damage in Mickey's best wallops.

Schmeling's decisive victory, three months after he lost the world heavyweight championship to Jack Sharkey, strengthened the German's position as the only real contender for the title. Max clearly outclassed the powerful little fighter who had held Sharkey to a draw.

Schmeling, besides standing a head taller than Walker and having a big advantage in reach, weighed 14 pounds more than the former middle and welterweight king. The German scaled 188½, Walker 174½.

$50,000 COURT SUIT STARTED

Remaining Jury Members Are Excused Until This Morning

Hearing was started Monday in Delta county circuit court in the case of Mrs. Frances LaPointe of Gladstone, mother and guardian of Armand LaPointe, 19, against the A. & P. Co. and C. W. Chevrette, Gladstone store manager. Damages of $50,000 are asked for permanent disabilities claimed to have been sustained by the plaintiff as a result of an illness contracted while employed at the Gladstone store. H. J. Rushton and Denis McGinn are attorneys for the plaintiff, and the defense is represented in court by Attorney A. H. Ryall of Escanaba and Attorney A. C. Unger of Milwaukee. Armand La Pointe was the first witness called for the plaintiff as the case opened before Judge Frank A. Bell.

The plainiff claimed that his illness originated as a result of exposure on March 6, 1929, while assisting in making grocery deliveries for the A. & P. store at 902 Delta avenue, Gladstone. For about three years, he said he had been delivering orders for the store after school, using a handsled or small wogan, and getting ten cents an order. On such occasions, he said that he usually went home after school and put on his work clothes, wearing heavier clothing as the weather demanded.

On March 5, 1929, LaPointe said that he had been notified by the store manager that deliveries were being discontinued, but that he might come the next day after school as usual and work in the store. He testified that he did come, dressed for indoor work with his school clothes, and started to pile canned good on shelves. The manager then asked him to help with some deliveries which were being made by truck, because of the fact that he was familiar with the locations of the homes of customers. He said that it was snowing and blowing, and the couple of hours spent riding on the rear of the delivery truck brought on an illness which left him permanently disabled. Medical testimony was introduced during the afternoon session.

As it became evident that the hearing would not be completed Monday, Judge Bell excused the remaining members of the jury until today.

Secretary Mills To Give Keynote Talk at Detroit

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 26.—The Honorable Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, will deliver the keynote speech at the Republican State Convention in Detroit, Michigan, Thursday, September 29, it was announced by the Speakers Bureau of the Republican National Committee.

His address will be broadcast from 10:45 to 11:30 a. m., central standard time, over a network of stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company.

Secretary Mills will make his second speaking appearance in the middle west during the present campaign in behalf of President Hoover, at St. Louis Friday, September 30. He will address a Republican gathering in the Jefferson Hotel.

The Secretary's St. Louis address is to be broadcast also over an NBC network from 8 to 9 p. m., central standard time.

Iron Mountain Man Makes Solo Flight

Mario Fountana of Iron Mountain made his first solo flight at the U. P. Airways Associates' airport Sunday afternoon, and will take the examinations for a private pilot's license next month. Fontana has purchased the Cardinal plane, which has been used at the local airport for several weeks.

Other students of Walter Arntzen, local aviation instructor, will go to Menominee Oct. 13 to take the examinations from T. E. Delasaux, of the U. S. department of commerce. They include: Mrs. Walter Arntzen, wife of the flyer; Dr. C. J. B. Kitchen, Harold Gessner, Adrian Swanson, Erling Arntzen, Escanaba; Clyde Cole, Ed Miller, Gladstone; and Fred Sensiba, Crystal Falls.

COTTON, ALSO FLOUR SHIPPED

Delta County Chapter of Red Cross Awaiting Delivery

Seventy-five hundred yards of cotton cloth and four additional carloads of flour have been shipped from the various mills and will be received by the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross within a few days, Secretary H. P. Lindsay announced yesterday.

Delta county has been assigned a quota of 12,000 yards, the remaining 4500 to be shipped later in the year. The flour shipment will make a total of eight carloads contributed to this county.

The cloth shipments are being made as follows: 1900 yards muslin sheeting from Huntsville, Ala.; 1000 yards dark flannel and 4000 yards light flannel from Burlington, N. C.; and 600 yards outing flannel from Millville, N. J. Upon arrival, the cloth will be turned over to the groups of women in the various communities, who will make them into garments for distribution to the poor families.

THEATRES

"Men In Her Life" tells the drama of a girl who, finding it madness to love, tried hating—and found it was folly to hate! Lois Moran plays the heroine of this Columbia picture, showing today at the Delft Theatre, and Charles Bickford, Victor Varconi and Donald Dilloway play the men she either loves or hates.

The locale of the story is first France—Paris and a small village—and then New York. Julia Cavanaugh is an American girl traveling abroad in search of adventure with a romantic flavor—and finding plenty of both. Robbed by a Count who had promised to marry her but changed his mind when he found she had lost her fortune, she would have been in a sorry plight but for the retired racketeer who happened by. He had aspirations to be a gentleman and whenever he found Julia Cavanaugh's name in the social columns he always read about her. He knew her face so well from her pictures in the papers that he recognized her without an introduction. And this is the introduction to a romance that has plenty of thrills and obstacles before reaching a happy conclusion.

"Men In Her Life" is based on a story by Warner Fabian, with adaptation and dialogue by Robert Riskin and continuity by Dorothy Howell. William Beaudine directed and others in the cast are Barbara Weeks, Oscar Apfel, Luis Alberni, Adrienne D'Ambricourt and Hooper Atchley.

Choral Club Will Meet This Evening

The Community Choral club will hold another rehearsal at the William W. Oliver auditorium at 7:30 o'clock this evening, President John A. Lemmer announces.

All persons interested in choral work are cordially invited to participate in the rehearsals. A few more male voices are desired to balance the organization.

About a hundred and twenty-five men and women took part in the last rehearsal.

The meeting called for the organization of the community orchestra, which was scheduled for this evening, will be held on Monday, Oct. 3, instead.

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

THE MAIN BATTLE GROUND

THE battleground in the presidential campaign, from present indications, will stretch from Illinois to the North Atlantic coast, particularly in New York, and both parties are girding for strenuous warfare in that sector.

The "solid South," which broke away from Alfred E. Smith in 1928, is expected to line up this year in the Democratic column, while several of the western states are leaning toward Roosevelt, according to some prominent political observers. The middle west and east, however, are considered as uncertain territory, and there will be much campaigning by both camps for the large number of electoral votes that are to be gotten there.

With its 47 electoral votes this year, New York is being closely watched. In the last few weeks, political developments in New York have been so often occurring that their significance on the presidential situation can scarcely be determined.

Acceptance by John F. Curry, leader of Tammany Hall, of membership on the New York state division of the national Democratic finance committee is interpreted as assuring Governor Roosevelt the support of official Tammany, at least. Within the ranks, however, there are still some Tammanyites who are disgruntled because of the defeat of their favorite, Alfred E. Smith, in the Chicago convention. Undoubtedly, their attitude toward Roosevelt will depend largely on how enthusiastically the 1928 standard bearer endorses this year's Democratic presidential nominee. Close friends of former Mayor Walker within the Tammany organization also do not feel so kindly toward Roosevelt.

New York state has gone Democratic in four Presidential elections subsequent to the civil war—in 1876, 1884, 1892 and 1912. In the last three of these four elections, the Democratic party elected its presidential candidate. In the first, that of 1876, the Democrats with Governor Tilden of New York as their standard bearer, lost the election by only one electoral vote, but were given a larger popular vote than the Republicans.

In 1916, Wilson won without New York, but he made a clean sweep of the west. Wilson lost New York state by about 110,000 votes that year, and his quarrel with Tammany over federal patronage was believed largely responsible for the lack of support. In 1928, Smith lost New York state by almost the same number of votes, 104,000, but a shift of only slightly more than 50,000 votes from Hoover to Smith would have given the latter his home state. In that case, Hoover's electoral majority of 357 would have been reduced to 267, greater than Coolidge's in 1924, but lower than Harding's in 1920.

In 1928, New York city gave Smith a majority of 454,000 votes over Hoover, and Roosevelt a majority of 407,000 over his Republican opponent for governor. Another factor which may develop to cut down Roosevelt's vote in the city of New York is the prospect that a Catholic will be nominated for the governorship on the Republican ticket, namely Col. William Donovan, who is an aggressive campaigner and extremely popular with the masses. His entrance in the picture may serve to draw support away from the Democratic ticket. It is too early to foretell how New York state will go, but that Roosevelt will have a hard time to carry it there is no denying.

THE BADGER VOTE

MICHIGAN papers have taken their part in the general discussion of the shift from LaFolletteism in Wisconsin. Explanations of the voter shift differ.

The Grand Rapids Herald thinks the matter of taxation has caused the Wisconsin change. It states:

"The nomination of former Governor Kohler constitutes a repudiation of the policies of Governor LaFollette who has taxed industry and wealth to the vanishing point. Factories have been closed in Wisconsin and reestablished elsewhere to avoid confiscatory taxes. Governor LaFollette's 1932 platform expanded upon his 'soak the rich' program; but Wisconsin apparently is awakening to the fact that it is killing the goose that has laid the golden eggs. The Wisconsin primary is significant as one more evidence that the promised radical trend of 1932 existed only in the hopes of a few 'progressives.' The people of this country are not misled by the sirens of radicalism."

The Saginaw News is another paper to express the belief that an unjust tax system caused the overthrow of LaFolletteism. It explains:

"Underlying the gubernatorial situation is the fact that despite the magnificent promises of Governor LaFollette, Wisconsin is more heavily burdened with taxation than at any period in her history, and that industry and business are being driven from the state in consequence of the unjust and arbitrary treatment accorded. This Mr. Kohler was able to show in a convincing manner, and the overthrow of LaFollette is the result. It is a striking illustration of the revolt taking place in the country in respect to this issue of overwhelming taxation and excessive cost of government."

The Adrian Telegram also believes that the program for the redistribution of wealth by the process of taxation is rebuked in Wisconsin. The Telegram offers the following view:

"The result is due in part to the fact that the LaFollette machine this year lost the votes of many democrats who in former years voted in the republican primaries, but who voted this year in their own primary. But no matter how the votes were lost, the fact remains that they actually were lost. Enough former LaFollette supporters changed their minds to make an adverse majority of 100,000. The two LaFollettes, Senator Blaine and the other Wisconsin radical member of congress, though nominally republicans, are really no closer to the republican party than they are to the democratic. They are much nearer to socialism than to either. In fact they openly avow that their program of higher and higher taxes on incomes and against corporations is for the very purpose of 'redistributing wealth,' which is precisely the aim of the socialist party."

The Kalamazoo Gazette also suggests that LaFolletteism has been found to cost too much in Wisconsin. It explains the matter thus:

"LaFollette 'progressivism' as practiced for the supposed benefit of the masses, has evidently proved to cost just a little more than the masses can pay. Whatever political significance the primary's outcome may have, its practical lesson is plain. Wisconsin has been experimenting with an economic philosophy which, in varying degrees and applications, has been urged repeatedly on numerous other states including our own. That philosophy, having been put to the test, has now been repudiated by the very multitudes it was designed to benefit. Let other states take heed."

The Battle Creek Enquirer-News thinks the Wisconsin voter found the promises of Wisconsin radicalism empty. It offers the following diagnosis:

"The vote was a protest against radicalism and empty theories. In the gubernatorial contest it breaks a dynasty which seemed to have a hypnotic spell over the state. In the defeat of Blaine it eliminates from the senate an obstructionist who accepted party privileges and the party name but who ignored party responsibility. The senate is relieved of a liability. The influence of the primary on the election to follow is questionable. Because the LaFollette crowd has never shown much name was used advantageously at the polls, the LaFollette influence may very likely be thrown to the other party in an effort to defeat the candidates who toppled the LaFollette dynasty."

CALL of the WEST

(By NEA Service) By R. G. MONTGOMERY

CHAPTER XI

DONA covered her face with her hands and tears slid between her fingers. She was sure that her father could not live through the chill of a mountain night. He needed the attention of the camp doctor at once.

"This is a hell of a mess!" A cold voice broke the stillness.

Dona looked up and saw Swergin bending over her. She leaped to her feet and could have thrown herself into his arms in spite of his scowl, so glad was she to see him. Tears of joy choked her and she could not speak.

Swergin examined Asper with rough hands. He grunted and straightened up. "Got to get him in at once! Ball is a rotten shot."

Swergin had caught the roan and trailed him back to the scene of the shooting.

"I'm so glad you came. You knew Dad left for Pass Creek Canyon?" Dona's words tumbled out.

Swergin had gathered Asper up and was placing him across his saddle. He glared at Dona. "I knew you were both fools enough to come," he snapped. "But you don't do it again or you can stay out all night!"

The trip to camp was a torture of anxiety for Dona. Now that they were rescued she was fearful that Swergin had come too late. Their pace seemed little better than crawling. Darkness found them only half way to Three Rivers and they had to go even slower, with the horses taking their own head.

Finally the lights of the camp winked through the black wall ahead and Dona spurred the roan to a gallop. The horse had become very docile after his fright. She wanted to get the doctor and have him ready as soon as her father arrived.

Dudley was pacing up and down before the open fireplace in the big room at headquarters. When Dona entered he leaped toward her and gripped her shoulders.

"Where under heaven have you been?" he fairly shouted.

"Quick, the doctor! Dad's been shot," she panted.

Dudley did not stop to ask questions but dashed away while Dona arranged her father's bed. Swergin carried Asper up the steps and into the room. The heavy burden seemed only a trifle to the timber boss. The doctor came bustling in with his black case and took charge. He halted long enough in his examination to look at Dona and then to order Dudley, who stood with an arm around her, to take her from the room.

"Give her whisky or black coffee and have her where I can call her. She should lie down." The doctor turned again to his patient and did not give the pair another glance.

DUDLEY forced Dona to come with him. He took her to her room and produced a flask from his pocket. Dona was able to swallow only a gulp of the liquor but its fire soothed her. Dudley insisted that she should lie down and sat beside her holding her hand.

"Honey, I love you," he whispered.

Dona stirred and looked at him dry-eyed.

"I'm taking you out of here just as soon as your Dad can be moved!" he announced determinedly.

A dark light flashed in the girl's blue eyes. "I'm not going until that man, Ball, is brought in." Her lips were tight and her little chin came up.

"What good can you do?" Dudley insisted gently.

"He took a mean advantage of Dad. I saw it!" Dona fastened her eyes on the door.

Dudley did not argue. There would be plenty of time for that after they received news about the wounded man.

The little clock on the dresser ticked away but Dona did not take her eyes from the door and the firm line of her mouth did not soften. At length she spoke.

"If—if Dad doesn't—make it I want to have a hand in running Ball down. I could shoot him myself!"

The door opened softly and the doctor thrust his head inside. When he saw the pair he entered. Dona leaped up and ran to meet him.

"He is asleep and he has a chance. Swergin got him in just in time. Bad rap on the head to go with the bullet wound." He looked at Dona critically and seemed to be deciding something.

"He will make it!" the girl whispered fiercely.

"You can nurse him?" the doctor put the question briefly.

Dona nodded eagerly.

"No hysteria. No foolishness. Just do as I tell you." The doctor was not accustomed to wealthy patients and gave his orders bluntly.

Dona listened carefully to all he said. She was eager to go at once to her father's side but the doctor shook his head.

"This is my job tonight. You are to sleep. If I need you I'll call you." He gave a questioning look at Dudley as he turned to leave.

"I'll stay up with him tonight," Dudley offered.

Dona squeezed Dudley's hand and let him go without a word.

THE next morning Asper regained consciousness while Dona was at his side. He grinned as he recognized her and spoke weakly.

"That cowpuncher came near getting the old man."

Dona patted his hand. "No talking yet, Dad. You'll be fit as ever in a few days, the doctor says."

"You can't kill a lumberjack with one bullet," Asper grinned. "Who brought me in?"

"Swergin," Dona told him with a smile. "I guess you were right about him. He is a good man and we owe him a lot." She did not tell him of her part in the affair.

Asper smiled and closed his eyes. In a few minutes he was asleep and Dona tip-toed to the open window. She could see Dudley down at the corrals. He was riding her roan horse and she could tell by the lift of his shoulders that he was proud of his success.

Dona slipped out on the porch where she was still within a few steps of the sick room. Putting

The Flint Journal sees a case of voter perversity in Wisconsin against any one or party in office. It states:

"From the national standpoint, the Wisconsin primary will rank with the Maine election as indicating the dangerous position of the 'ins' who this year are the recipients of the jar from the 'protest vote.' In some states it may mean that the liberal element will take control. In others, such as Wisconsin, the conservatives win. Either way, the 'ins' are the buffer. It is a satisfaction, however, to see that Wisconsin, long famed for its socialistically-tinged political machine, finally has risen with wrath and defeated the radical element."

The issues of the campaign are somewhat wet-and-dry, but there hasn't been much mudslinging, at that.

The government is cutting down its paper bill, which might be called pretty good economy on paper.

LYRICS OF LIFE

TO GET IT DONE

Though doing something here and there
Around the house takes thought and care
And time and strength, the greater task
Is not to do it but to ask.
Though doing something seems to be
A burden, we shall learn to see
There always is a greater one,
And that is getting something done.

There always is a thing or two
Around the house the rest could do,
And so we say to someone near,
"I wish you'd fix this matter here."
If they would only just refuse
We'd save a lot of time we lose.
Would say they won't, we'd go ahead;
Alas, they say they will instead.

And, making this a better earth,
Their promises have equal worth.
Whoever may perceive the need
Must do the thinking, then the deed.
The rest our wisdom may approve
But always nod and never move.
We must not ask of anyone,
Must do a thing to get it done.

NEW COLLEGE PLAN OUTLINED

Frs. Simon and William Of Jordan Address Kiwanians

The aims of Jordan college, recently established by the Salvatorian Fathers inthe old Menominee County Agricultural School plant at Menominee, were explained by Rev. Fr. Simon Borkowski, president of the institution, and Rev. Fr. William Nern, dean of men and faculty athletic manager, at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon.

In opening his talk, Fr. Simon stated that eight years of residence in the upper peninsula as pastor of St. Barbara's church in Vulcan caused him to realize the need of an institution of higher learning of this type in this section of the state.

"About five thousand of our young people leave the upper peninsula to go to colleges and universities in lower Michigan and other states," Fr. Simon said. "After they complete their training few of them return to the upper peninsula, but devote their minds and energies to the development of other regions.

"It is the aim of Jordan college to teach our boys and girls to love the upper peninsula, and to want to remain here to live and develop it. We believe that the upper peninsula has immense possibilities for the further development of industry, particularly by taking advantage of its water power resources."

Non-Sectarian School

Fr. Simon explained that Wisconsin's development as the leading dairy state of the Union is attributed to a great degree to the influence of the University of Wisconsin, and he cited other instances where states have progressed materially because of the work of their schools.

"We are conducting a non-sectarian, coeducational university," Fr. Simon continued. "We intend to propagate a new philosophy of life. It will not be a Catholic philosophy, but one of common-sense. We believe that the series of depressions that have occurred in this country is because the philosophy has not been sound."

Fr. Simon stated that his school of philosophy believed that there should be the three classes in society, the capitalist, middleman and laborer, but that there should be fuller recognition of the interdependency of the three classes.

"The capitalists made huge profits in the days of prosperity, but instead of turning over some of this money to the laborers, they used it to purchase more machines," Fr. Simon declared. "As a result, labor does not have the money with which to buy goods, and the machines stand idle."

To Have Strong Team

Fr. William described the athletic prospects at Jordan college. He said there are about forty-five candidates for the gridiron squad drilling under the direction of Leonard Umnus, former University of Illinois star and one-time coach at Wichita university. He predicted that Bob Snyder and Rubens of Escanaba would make the first squad, and that Scheriff, Legault, Wilson and Roth were also showing up well. Other candidates are Trenary of Kingsford, George Oeckstadt, Russell Falk and Carl Shaver of Menominee; Combs, Danner and Malmstadt of Marinette, Abrahams of Iron Mountain, and several boys from Chicago.

Students of Escanaba high school, under the direction of R. P. Bowers, presented a pleasing program of instrumental and vocal music. The group is composed of Clara Karas, Harold Hellman, Gertrude Grabowski, Edward Lucas, Jack Foster, June Christensen, Jack Geniesse, Robert Bartella and Richard Carlton.

William Warmington, George Brown and J. B. Moran were appointed by President George Harvey to represent the Kiwanis club on the Salvation Army advisory board.

TAXES ON INSTALIMENT

Aukland, N. Z.—To make it easier on taxpayers, and to reward them for paying their taxes ahead of time, an act has been passed which permits New Zealand property owners to pay their taxes on the installment plan and, by paying them in advance, get credit with interest for their advance payments. Heretofore it was only permissible to pay taxes in a lump sum.

Still Missing

13-Year Hunt for Theater Czar Futile

Colonel Raymond Robins, friend of President Hoover, has mysteriously vanished, joining the ranks of 50,000 persons who disappear annually in the United States. This is the fifth of a series of six mystery classics of real life—those who never came back.

* * *

BY ROBERT TALLEY
(NEA Service Writer)
(Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

On the very day that he disappeared, Ambrose Small, Toronto's "lost millionaire," sold his chain of Canadian theatres for $1,750,000, deposited in his bank a check for the $1,000,000 down payment and retired from the business he had entered 35 years before as a $10-a-week ticket taker.

He vanished on Dec. 2, 1919. That was nearly 13 years ago. Though a $50,000 reward was offered by his wife and a world-wide search was conducted, no trace of the missing millionaire ever was found.

Canada's theatre mogul left behind him an enigma as baffling as any shadowy mystery-drama ever enacted in any of his numerous theatres. Even today some of the Dominion's best detectives, who have worked on his case for years, do not know whether Ambrose Small was murdered and his body destroyed or whether he went voluntarily to that Port of Missing Men which beckons invitingly to unhappy souls.

There is reason enough to believe either theory.

Small was a tall, lean, hawk-like man with a heavy black mustache. It appears that he had few enemies and, from all accounts, still fewer friends. His closest companion was John Doughty, his confidential secretary and right-hand man, who knew his employer's romantic secrets. They had been associated for 19 years and though Small had made several million dollars, he was paying his friend only $45 a week.

About noon on the day of his disappearance, Small and his attorneys consummated the sale of his theatres to a Canadian syndicate for $1,750,000. A check for $1,000,000 was given Small as down payment, and this he deposited in the Dominion Bank of Toronto. Then he had lunch downtown with his wife, visited a Catholic orphanage with her and returned to his office about 3 p. m., saying he would be home for dinner at 6.

Between 3 and 5, employes of the Grand theatre saw their retiring master in his private office, apparently winding up his affairs. At 5:30 he visited's Lamb's hotel next door, which was his custom before going home.

And then he vanished. This day he didn't go home.

Believing her husband was off on another gay party with a woman friend, Mrs. Small waited two weeks before she notified police. When no ward of him came, she offered a reward of $500 which she ultimately increased to $50,000.

In the meantime, Doughty had gone to Montreal, where Small had got him another theatre job, at $75 a week. About the time that Mrs. Small notified police, Doughty returned to Toronto—and then suddenly followed his former employer into the ranks of mystery men.

It now became a search for two men instead of one. In November, 1920, 11 months later, detectives found Doughty working in a lumber camp in Oregon City, Ore., under an assumed name. A local constable had recognized him from a circular broadcast by Toronto police.

During Doughty's absence strange things had happened. Detectives found that Doughty had twice visited Small's bank vault on the day the millionaire disappeared, and that $150,000 in bonds had vanished.

Brought back to Toronto, Doughty led police to the home of his sister and there, from a hiding place in the attic, produced the $150,000 in bonds. His explanation was this: He had taken the bonds from his employer's vault with the intention of going to Small and suggesting that the $150,000 would be a suitable reward for his long service. But, he added, Small disappeared before he could do this and he (Doughty) had then decided to keep the money, feeling that it was due him.

Doughty was tried, convicted of larceny and sentenced to six years. A second indictment charging him with complicity in the kidnaping of Ambrose Small was held over him by police, but not pressed. All mention of kidnaping was omitted at his trial for larceny. He was freed from prison in February, 1926.

And now for more chapters in this strange mystery, which seem to indicate that Small never was killed at all:

Eighteen days after Small's disappearance a Toronto newsboy, who had a stand half a block from the theatre, reported that Small had purchased a paper from him the previous evening, between 7 and 7:15 p. m. The man halted a minute under an arc light, scanned the headlines and then moved on. The newsboy said that he was sure that he could not be mistaken, that Small had been one of his regular customers.

And, four years afterward when relatives were fighting in court over the Small estate, Mrs. Small explained why she had waited two weeks after her husband's disappearance before she notified police. They had quarreled before over another woman, she testified, and shortly after Small's disappearance on Dec. 2 she had found love letters among her husband's effects.

A paragraph in one of these letters, from a married woman, read:

"I am the most unhappy girl in the world. I want you. Can't you suggest something after the first of December? You will be free, practically. Let's beat it away from our troubles."

Mrs. Small said it was the discovery of these letters immediately after her husband disappeared that kept her from notifying police at once.

Was Toronto's "lost millionaire" murdered, or did he run away?

What is your answer to the riddle?

TOMORROW: The strange disappearance of Dorothy Arnold, the "lost heiress," who vanished on crowded Fifth avenue in busy New York on her way to keep a luncheon engagement with her mother. . . . A mystery that 22 years has only deepened.

Many Applicants For City Woodlot

Wood is being hauled at the rate of more than 30 loads a day from the woodlots purchased by the city of Escanaba for the benefit of unemployed men who wish to cut their own fuel.

A new tract was opened up Monday, and there were about 250 applicants. The new lot is adjacent to the city dumping grounds on the old state road, and with a strip available on city property will make about 60 acres ready for cutting.

Five or six trucks have been hauling out wood steadily, each averaging six loads a day. The loads have about 1½ cords each.

Child Injured

Marquette—The condition of Arnold Maki, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Maki, who was seriously injured Friday night when he fell off the rear of a truck and was run over by a passing automobile, was described last night by attendants in St. Mary's hospital as being improved.

Parent-Teacher Institute Will Open November 3

Ann Arbor, Sept. 26—For the third consecutive year Michigan parents and teachers will meet at the University of Michigan to discuss child problems at the Parent Education Institute, to be held this year on Nov. 3, 4 and 5, according to Dr. Charles A. Fisher of the university extension division. The success of previous institutes has given the Michigan meeting a national recognition and enabled the drawing up of a program of lectures by national and state authorities on many aspects of child development.

At the evening meeting on Nov. 3, Dr. W. E. Blatz, psychiatrist of the University of Toronto, speaks on "Why Should the Child Conform?" Dr. Blatz, a leading Canadian student of child behavior, lectured at the 1930 institute. At the Nov. 4 evening meeting President Ruthven will speak and Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt, professor of child care and training at the University of Cincinnati and chairman of Parent Education for the National Congress of P. T. A., will talk on "The Educator and the Modern Parent"; while on Saturday Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, of Columbia university and co-worker with John Dewey, will address the institute on "My Child as a Person."

A full schedule of round table conferences and talks is planned for the mornings and afternoons of the institute, with visiting authorities, university and P. T. A. leaders in charge. The conferences will be on rural education, the handicapped child, child guidance, recreation and feeding the child. "Juvenile Delinquency a Natural Reaction," will be the topic of Dr. Louis A. Schwartz, of the Yale Institute of Human Relations; Mrs. J. K. Pettengill, fourth vice president of the National P. T. A. Congress, will talk on parent teacher relations in parent education; and rural programs will be described by Dr. William M. Robinson, director of rural education at Western State Teachers college. "Parent and Adolescent Confidences" will be discussed by Professor Howard Y. McCluskey, of the School of Education; John J. Lee, director of special education for handicapped children of the Michigan department of public instruction, will describe state work in this field; Professor Charles M. Elliot will talk on special education at Michigan State Normal college; and Dr. Louis W. Keeler will give results of teaching crippled children at the University hospital.

Other speakers include Dr. Maud E. Watson, of the Children's Fund of Michigan; Mary E. Sweeny, assistant director of Merrill-Palmer school, Detroit; Alden W. Thompson, of the state department of public instruction, on school and community recreation; and university faculty members who will speak on child health, psychiatry, sociology and diet. Exhibits in such fields as shop work, art, children's books, parent reading and visual education are planned.

FOR THE FALL PARTY

BY JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

Shoulders grow wide and waists grow more slender when the autumn party frocks appear on the ballroom floor. Material isn't relying on added ornamentation so much this season. It is making the most of itself bq tying startling bows and letting the full skirts flair lavishly.

The girl in the sketch knows that she is taking the right steps because she chose a transparent velvet gown in bacaret green, which features epaulet shoulders, demure yet sophisticated, and ties a big bow at the center of the back. The frock is form fitting, molding the body until it reaches a point just above the knees when it decides to sweet out, in a wider gesture.

Grandma Johnson Ninety Years Old, Party Held Sunday

Mrs. Marie Johnson, "Grandma" Johnson, as she is known to her many friends, was the guest of honor at a large gathering Sunday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mattson, with whom she lives at Pine Ridge, arranged in honor of her ninetieth birthday anniversary.

Visiting and other social diversions were enjoyed during the pleasant day and a delicious birthday supper was served.

Grandma was presented with a number of beautiful gifts and with a purse of money in remembrance of the occasion. She also received messages of congratulation from children and grandchildren, some of whom live in Maine and others in Loveland, Colo.

Forty guests attended the birth day party, including visitors from Oshkosh and Menominee, as well as neighbors and friends in the community.

In spite of her advanced age Grandma enjoyed the anniversary party, taking a genuine pleasure in all of its events.

Vegetable Colors

When you are serving vegetables, try to have a color contrast. Never serve all green vegetables. Peas, spinach and beans make an unattractive combination. Carrots relieve it.

Complete plans for the upper peninsula meeting of the Business and Professional Women's clubs, which will be held in Munising on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1 and 2, were announced Monday by Miss Alice Kvam, who is president of the Escanaba club.

The district meeting will have Beach Inn as its headquarters and registration will be held Saturday afternoon at the Inn.

The program of the meeting will open with a sight-seeing trip Saturday afternoon to points of interest about Munising, including the Pictured Rocks, Miners Castle, Miners Falls, Tannery Falls, Munising Falls and Wagner Falls. The program of the two days, including the banquet Saturday evening, is as follows:

Saturday evening—Banquet, Elba L. Morse, toastmistress.
Introduction of club members.
Stunts by clubs.
Sunday, 8:30-9:30 a. m.—Breakfast.
9:30-11 a. m.—Business meeting in hotel lobby. Mrs. Hornbogen, president, District No. 5, presiding.
Community singing.
Address by state president, Miss Maude Gleason.
Report of each club's activities, by club president.
12:30-1:30 p. m.—Dinner. Dedication of Munising Business and Professional Women's club forestry plot, six miles south of Wetmore.

Escanaba members may make reservations for this meeting by calling Ardienne Tousignant, telephone 410, or Mrs. Caroline Nystrom, telephone 815 or 1673-W. Members are requested to complete their reservations by 6 o'clock Thursday.

The meeting is being held the same week-end as the Michigan Education association seventh district instatute at Marquette in the hope that teachers of the district will be able to plan attendance at both meetings.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the convention is: Elba L. Morse, Marquette, chairman; Mildred Feldhausen Ruggles, Munising; Elizabeth Hall, Newberry.

Favorite Recipe
Betty Ann

Mrs. Louis Farley of Gladstone has sent Betty Ann readers two excellent recipes, one for saccharin pickles, which was requested a short time ago, if you remember, and the other for a standard white cake and for the frosting to go with it.

Saccharin Pickles

One peck cucumbers
One gallon vinegar
One cup salt
One-half cup dry mustard
One teaspoon saccharin
One teaspoon powdered alum
Two stocks horseradish.

Method: Put pickles in jars, add vinegar and other ingredients cold after you have mixed it together.

Standard White Cake

Two cups sifted flour
Two teaspoons baking powder
One-half cup butter or other shortening
One cup sugar
Three-fourths cup milk
One teaspoon vanilla
Three egg whites, stiffly beaten

Method: Sift flour once, measuring. Add baking powder and sift together three times. Cream shortening thoroughly. Add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour to creamed mixtured alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Fold in egg whites. Bake in two greased nine inch layer pans or loaf in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., from 25 to 30 minutes.

Frosting for Cake

One cup light brown sugar
Three-fourths cup sour cream
One-eighth teaspoon soda.

Let boil until mixture forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from stove. Add tablespoon butter. Vanilla. Let stand until cook. Then beat until creamy and spread on cake.

Mrs. Louis Farley,
Garden, Michigan.

A Betty Ann reader's request for a recipe for cold packed chicken was received Monday. If you have this recipe will you give it to the department, Daily Press, telephone 693.

BROTHERS BACK IN JAIL AGAIN

Menominee Boys Given Third Sentences for Thefts

The Linsmeier brothers, Clarence and Joseph, of Menominee, are again back in the Delta county jail.

Released yesterday after serving terms imposed upon them in Escanaba, they were brought here, arraigned before Justice A. D. Alguire on a shoplifting charge, pleaded guilty and were given sentences, the third meted out to them in Delta and Schoolcraft counties in recent months.

Each was given 15 days in the county jail for thefts committed at the Dehlin drug store on August 6. Articles taken at that time were valued at $11.25 and included a purse, toothbrush and cream and a number of toiletries.

The boys were brought here for arraignment from Escanaba where they had just finished serving sentences for the theft of a number of automobile tires. Previous to that they had served terms at Manistique for other thefts.

The youths stated that the series of thefts were the first in which they have ever participated and that they were thankful they had been apprehended for it had showed them the error of their ways, it was reported.

THEATRES

It's not every man who can be President for a day.

That honor fell to Tom Hackett, Hollywood character actor, during the production of "The Washington Masquerade," in which Lionel Barrymore and an elaborate cast are now playing at the Rialto Theatre.

The Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer drama of political life at the national capital includes a vivid reception by the President, with the diplomatic corps, high army officers and national and foreign statesmen in attendance. So the problem was to find an actor to play the President.

"Find me a man who looks like Hoover," ordered Charles Brabin, the director. In an hour the casting director produced Hackett who looks enough like the President to pass for him.

Miss Ruth Noreus and Mrs. Stanley Venne are leaving today by motor for Cloquet, Minn., where they will visit the remainder of the week at the home of the former's brother, Robert Noreus.

Casimir Fails To Pay Fine; Given Five Days In Jail

Constant Casimir yesterday started serving his second jail sentence brought upon himself through the little oversight of securing a permit.

Apparently Constant has little time for permits. Last spring he started a brush fire without first going through the little formality of obtaining a burning permit and the violation of the state conservation laws ended in a 30-day term when he couldn't pay the fine.

Last week he was hailed into court by state police for operating a truck without a license and it developed that the trailer which was attached to the truck was without plates and that Casimir didn't even have an operator's license.

He was fined a dollar and costs by Justice Alguire and given until Saturday to drop in and pay, which he agreed to do. Saturday came but no Casimir. So yesterday committment papers were made out and Constant began a five-day sojourn in the county brig.

Receipts For Grid Game Total $60.75

Receipts of the Gladstone-Newberry football game Saturday the first home game of the season, amounted to $60.75, while expenses totalled $124.49, it was announced yesterday by Prin. C. C. Strickland. Itemized the expenses were as follows: Newberry guatantee, $75.00; officiating and policing, $30.50; advertising, $2.50, and supplies, $16.49. This leaves a deficit of $63.74, the amount being taken in being only about half enough to finance the event.

The hundreds that saw it last night thought this picture MARVELOUS, you can't afford to miss this truly great drama of the White House.

Shows 7 and 9 RIALTO Tonight and Tomorrow

TEACHERS WILL ATTEND MEETING

C. C. Strickland, Chairman of High School Division

Public schools of Gladstone will be closed Friday to allow faculty members to attend the annual meeting of District Seven of the Michigan Education association which convenes in Marquette Thursday and will continue through Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

It is probable that periods in the local schools will be shortened Thursday afternoon to allow teachers to leave here in time to reach Marquette for the opening session Thursday evening. Virtually the entire staff here have signified their intentions of attending.

Leaders in every field of education and of national and world affairs will be heard, including among them such outstanding speakers as Dr. George E. Vincent, former president of the University of Minnesota; Rodney H. Brandon, state director of public welfare in Illinois; and Harry Elmer Barnes, internationally known educator, lecturer and writer. Speakers for the Division meetings will be Dr. Rollo G. Reynolds, principal of the Horace Mann School, Columbia University; Miss Ruth Mary Weeks, head of the department of English, Paseo High School, Kansas City, Missouri; James Edward Rogers, director, National Physical Education Service; and Fannie W. Dunn of the department of rural education, Teachers College, Columbia University. Miss Dunn, who will address the Rural Division at Marquette, has made it her life work to champion the cause of the one and two-teacher rural schools.

Strickland to Preside

Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, and Otto W. Haisley, president of the Michigan Education association and superintendent of the Ann Arbor schools, will also be heard, appearing on the general programs.

Meetings of the teachers are divided into general programs which will be held Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday morning and to which the public is invited, divisional and sectional meetings, the latter being for specialized discussions.

C. C. Strickland, principal of the Gladstone high school, will preside as chairman at the high school division meeting which will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Kaufman Auditorium at the Graveraet high school. Miss Ruth Mary Weeks, head of the English department in Paseo high school, Kansas City, Mo., will be the speaker at this time, using as her subject, "Correlation of Subjects of Instruction." Miss Weeks is rated highly for her work in the field of high school English.

SOCIAL

Miss Lillian Empson will be hostess at a regular meeting of the Coterie this afternoon at her home on Wisconsin avenue. The meeting will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

The program:

Black Reenlists In U. S. Marines; Will Further Radio Study

Wallace Black of this city Saturday reenlisted at Chicago in the United States Marines, according to word received here, and has been transferred to the base at Quantico, West Virginia, where he will continue study of radio.

Black previously served four years with the marines, his enlistment period expiring a year ago, at which time he returned to this city. During his previous enlistment he took up the study of radio while at Quantico, where he spent 2 1-2 years. He also served a year and one-half in Nicaragua with the U. S. forces.

Wallace is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Black, 523 Michigan avenue.

City Relief Work Program Rapidly Nearing Completion

Gladstone's relief work program is rapidly nearing completion, City Manager F. R. Buechner stated yesterday, and no future jobs are at the present time planned or anticipated, the city now having carried out more work this year than was earlier planned.

Workmen are now grading a block on Eighteenth street between Minneapolis and Dakota avenues, which is expected to be finished next week and will complete the street improvement program for the year.

A small crew is also engaged in leveling off the pile of material excavated from the boat harbor being constructed in the city park as the first phase of the aquatic park development. Only a small amount of dredging, about ten feet on the south end, evening of the ragged west shore and deepening of the north end, necessitated through the lowering of the lake level, remains to be done.

The Eighteenth street project bounds the Marble Athletic Field on the east side and will tie-in Minneapolis and Dakota avenues, giving access to all sides of the field. Cutting and filling were necessary in this street improvement and the grading will finish the work as no plans have been made for graveling this year. This will probably be allowed for when the budget is prepared for next year.

Special music will be provided at the evening services.

COUNCIL PASSES SCHOOL BUDGET

Board Makes 13% Reduction; Tax Rate Only $15 Per Thousand

Unanimous approval of the public school budget for 1932-33, which incorporates a slashing reduction in school operating costs, was made last night by the city council after it had been adopted last Friday at a meeting of the board of education. By making a substantial reduction on this year's budget, from $109,525.00 to $95,788.00, a slice of $13,737.00, the school tax rate per thousand will amount to only $15.00 as compared with $16.35 for the year previous. The reduction in the budget amounts to approximately 13 per cent. The amount to be raised by taxes this year is $58,053.00 while last year the sum of $68,017.30 had to be met.

When the $170,000 bond issue was brought before the people during the winter of 1930, the board of education promised taxpayers that the new building program and subsequent upkeep would not increase the tax rate more than 90 cents per thousand. The board has kept well within that promise. The tax rate last year represented only an increase of 55 cents per thousand, while the tax rate this year will be 80 cents lower than it was in 1930-31, a year prior to the expansion.

The principal cut in the 1932-33 budget was effected in salaries which were reduced $9,267.00 below that of the year previous, $7,775.00 of this being teachers' salaries; $2,400.00 was sliced off of buildings and repairs; $1,925.00 from operating expenses and supplies; $230.00 from educational supplies and expenditures; $50.00 from general miscellaneous expense such as school election, commencement, school census, etc.; and a slice of $225.00 through interest on bonds.

Although operating expenses total $95,788.00, only $58,053.00 will have to be raised by taxation as other incomes derived from the Turner fund, Smith-Hughes work, primary apportionment, etc., allow for the differences.

WILLIAM VAGE DIES SUDDENLY

Hospital Worker Stricken While Playing Golf Sunday

Stricken while playing on the Newberry Country club golf course, William S. Vage died suddenly about 4 p. m. on Saturday September 24th.

Mr. Vage has been connected with the Newberry state hospital for the past 23 years, serving during the latter years as assistant supervisor of the men patients and in charge of the receiving ward.

Mr. Vage was born in England 70 years ago on April 20, and was the son of Frank and Elizabeth (Saunders) Vage. Coming to this country while still a lad he at first traveled about considerably before coming to Newberry. In 1918 he married Miss Limba Tula and there is one child, a son, William, Jr., aged 13. He leaves besides his wife and son, a brother in British Columbia and a sister in England.

Active in community affairs Mr. Vage will be greatly missed by a large group of friends. He was a member of the Sault lodge of Elks, of the local Country club and of the McMillan township band.

Funeral plans are not yet completed but services will be held at the residence at the hospital with burial in Forest Home cemetery.

HANEY-CAMPBELL

A quiet wedding was celebrated in St. Gregory's Catholic church on Monday morning when Miss Blanche Hay Haney became the bride of Francis Hugh Campbell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haney living near McMillan and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Campbell, formerly of St. Ignace. The couple was attended by Miss Anna Marie Richey and James Burns, both of this town. Mr. Campbell has been for some time employed by the Bonifas company and the young couple will make their home in this locality.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

Mrs. John Brown, president of the local branch of the National Needlework Guild, is calling a meeting of the directors of the organization in the community building on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. She urges all members to be present as the need of garments is greater than ever.

FOSTER-GASTON

Miss Lola Elise Foster, daughter of Mrs. J. C. Foster of Newberry and Mr. Harold P. Gaston of East Lansing and Detroit, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Gaston, Sr., of Kansas City, were quietly married on Saturday, Sept. 24, at the chapel of the East Congregational church in Grand Rapids, Rev. Fifefield officiating.

The wedding was very quiet and pretty, the bride being attired in a brown traveling dress and carrying deep roses and sweet peas. Only the immediate members of the family and Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Campbell of Newberry were present. Mrs. Foster went down from Newberry to attend.

Following the sevice a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thorne Brown on Gladstone Drive, Grand Rapids. The young couple was attended by Miss Evelyn Foster and Thorne Brown. After a brief wedding trip they will return to Detroit where Mr. Gaston is engaged in work for the state in the crops division of the agricultural division. The bride has been employed by the social service department in Detroit, operating under the Michigan Children's Fund. She is a graduate of the Newberry high school and has many friends here, having lived here all her life until her school days. While attending Michigan State college at East Lansing she met Mr. Gaston, while he was a student there, the romance starting two years ago.

BRIEFLY TOLD

School Enrollment Increases Slightly

School enrollment for the fourth week is slightly higher than for the same period last year, what increase there is being largely in the upper four high school grades.

Following are the comparative figures:

	Sept. 1931	Sept. 1932
High School	413	444
Jr. High School	149	149
Central Grades	122	119
Lincoln	281	290
Lakeside	132	159
Riverside	108	66
	1185	1227

The faculty last year numbered 42 teachers. Thirty-nine of which were full time instructors and three taught half time making a total of 40 1-2 full time teachers. This present year the teaching corps consists of 39 members.

The decrease at Riverside and increase at Lincoln is partly due to the transferring of the kindergarten class from Riverside to Lincoln.

NAHMA NEWS

Nahma, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Malcolm and children, Lee and Patricia spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Anderson of Conover, Wis.

The Episcopal church school will meet next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock when classes will be formed and regular instruction begun. There will be an afternoon service at two o'clock next Sunday at which time a number of children will be christened. An invitation is extended to the public to be present at the ceremony. Archdeacon Paper will be here for that occasion.

Rudolf, Edward and Irene Groleau of St. Jacques visited at the Edward Johnson home Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. DeRosier of Garden returned to her home Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Winters, also residents of Garden. She has been visiting here for the last few days at the homes of her daughter and son, Mrs. F. Olmsted and Mr. H. DeRosier.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller of Rapid River and Mr. and Mrs. George Moreau of Escanaba, visited at the George Miller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brophy and son Miles, motored to Green Bay Sunday to visit their daughter, Betty, who is training to become a nurse at the Bellin hospital at that city. Mrs. R. B. Ellis a sister of Mrs. Brophy, accompanied them as far as Oconto Wis.

Gigolos Break Even in Double Header Sunday

The Lakeside Gigolos, managed by Clarence Marks and Tom McDonough, defeated the strong Thompson nine Sunday afternoon by a score of 4-3. The official score keeper awarded the game to Thompson, but after rechecking found that the Gigolos obtained the decision. The game was called at the end of the fourth inning owing to darkness. Batteries were Ballor and Lancour for the Gigolos and LaBrasseur and McEachern for Thompson. Another game between the two teams is trying to be arranged for next Sunday.

The Gigolos also tasted defeat Sunday when the Gulliver Dodgers whipped them 11-8. The game was cut short because the Dodgers had to play another scheduled game with Seul Choix. Seven innings were played with Marks and R. Lancour pitching for the locals and McDonough and B. Lancour doing the receiving. For the Dodgers, Johnson pitched and Knuth caught.

SOCIAL

Celebrate Birthdays

The Dutch Dozen met at the Otto Winkel farm, Cooks, Saturday evening to celebrate the birthdays of Mr. Winkel and Albert Huebscher. Three tables of five hundred were in play with awards going to Mr. and Mrs. William Hemo, high scores, Mrs. Albert Huebscher and Otto Winkel, second high, Mrs. Otto Winkel and Louis Laux, consolation. Pot luck refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The honored members were each presented with a memento of the occasion.

Birthday Party

In celebration of her seventh birthday anniversary, Miss Marjorie McKenzie was hostess to her little friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. William Turpin, 522 Park avenue, Saturday afternoon.

The girls played many interesting games until five o'clock when a delicious birthday luncheon was served. The table was prettily decorated in a color scheme of pale green and blue with the lighted birthday cake, also frosted in pale green and blue, forming an attractive centerpiece.

Miss Marjorie received many pretty gifts in remembrance of this birthday.

The guests were Madge Cookson, Shirley Carlyon, Evelyn Buttler, Jean Wilson, Lorraine Shampo, Jean Watson, Rosemary Cook, Ellen Rustad and Helen Tyrrell.

Elks to Present Opening Dance of Season on Friday

The opening dance of the season given by the local Elks' lodge will be held this Friday evening, Sept. 30, at the club ball room. Invitations have been sent out and the usual admission charge will be made.

Jordan Embry and his colored band, The Kentucky Bluebirds, will provide the music. The Bluebirds, who filled a long engagement this summer at St. Ignace and have played at several dances in this vicinity, have established a splendid reputation as a dance orchestra. Novelty attractions will be provided by Felix, the tap dancer.

Old Timers Easily Whip Thompson, 11-8

In a loosely played game at Thompson Sunday, the Old Timers defeated the Thompson City team, 11-3. Batteries were Steinhoff and B. Arnold for Thompson, and Harbin, LaBrassuer, and Peterson for the locals.

Harbin held the Thompson team well in hand throughout the contest and LaBraussuer blanked them in the eighth and ninth innings. The score by innings is as follows:

Old Timers	3	1	2	0	0	1	2	2	0	11

Hold Last Rites For J. S. Peterson

Impressive funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for John S. Peterson, pioneer River Road farmer who passed away Saturday morning. Rites were held from the home of Mrs. Earl Hider, Manistique Heights, at 2 o'clock with Rev. Joseph Groza, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating.

Interment was made in Lakeview cemetery with Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, in charge.

Miss Olive Corkin returned to Powers Sunday evening where she teaches in the public schools after spending the week-end here with Mrs. Frank Jane. Miss Corkin is a niece of Mrs. Jane.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Stocks back-tracked in a quiet market today, closing with numerous losses of 1 to 4 points. Bonds also had an easy appearance, but final quotations on wheat and cotton were little changed.

Profit-taking and some selling for a reaction, combined with an absence of speculative interest on the long side, seemed to have governed the day's movement in shares, for little in the day's news had much direct bearing on Wall Street sentiment.

Rallies of a point or two in the first half hour carried scant conviction and were dissipated before noon. From then until the close prices worked downward. Activity quickened in the last hour, but a late flurry of covering brought final quotations in most instances moderately above the lows. Sales totaled 2,082,570 shares.

In U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, General Motors, Du Pont, Chrysler, Consolidated Gas, North American, International Telephone and United Aircraft declines ran from about 2 to slightly more than 3 points. The rail group, which had led the early rise, concluded the session with virtually the same range of losses.

Saturday's favorable car loadings statement and one steel review's estimte that operations had risen two points to 17 percent of capacity were prominent in the week-end news, although the market found little inspiration in them.

Utilities Are Weak And Curb Declines

New York, Sept. 26—Heaviness of the utilities helped give the curb market a setback today, although volume was light, transactions approximating 210,000 shares which equalled last Friday's turnover.

Electric Bond and Share was rather freely offered and dipped about 4 points at the worst, closing slightly above the bottom.

Oils continued under pressure, reflecting further reductions in gasoline prices. Gulf's loss was about 3 points while Standard of Indiana sagged fractionally.

Specialties were somewhat ragged. Aluminum of America slumped nearly 8, Singer Manufacturing, on the other hand, recovered 5 points of last week's decline.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—

Stocks: Weak; pivotal issues meet thin support.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 26—In a zig-zag market that duplicated the action of securities, wheat prices today ruled alternately strong and weak.

The end was inconclusive, almost exactly at Saturday's closing level, persistent reports that a way would be found to sell another big amount of wheat to China were largely offset for the time being by absence of definite details and by announcement of increased visible supplies both in Canada and the United States. Corn dipped to a new bottom price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1-8 lower, corn 1-8 to ½ down, oats 1-8 to ¼ off and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 25 cents.

Big receipts of corn in Chicago, 523 cars today, put a weight on corn and oats prices.

Provisions were irregular. Good foreign and domestic demand for cash lard was a feature.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—December, 53 5-8 to 3-4, 55¼ to 3-8; May, 58 7-8 to 59, 60 7-8 to 61. Corn—December, 28½ to 5-8, 28 7-8 to 29; May, 33 3-4, 34 1-8.

Station to Reopen

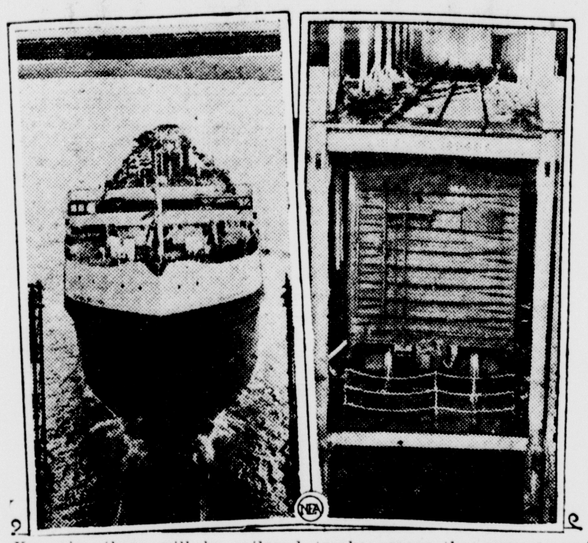
Marquette—WBEO, the Mining Journal radio station, which has been off the air since June 18, last, will resume operations next Saturday, October 1, under authority granted last week by the federal radio commission.

Until business conditions are improved WBEO will broadcast on a temporarily curtailed schedule, which will be expanded as conditions warrant. Temporarily the daily broadcasting schedule will be as follows:

11:30 a. m. to 1:15 p. m.
4:30 p. m. to 7:15 p. m.

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The American Smelting & Refining Co. today announced a reduction of 10 points in the price of lead to 3.30 cents a pound, New York.

GOING TO SEA BY RAIL!



Yes, sir—there will be railroad tracks across the oceans now! Only they'll be aboard the seatrain New York, a new type merchant ship designed to carry loaded freight cars. The vessel is pictured at left as it was launched in the Delaware river at Chester, Pa., and the photo at right shows how cars are run onto one of its four decks. The ship carries a quarter of a mile of tracks.

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The bond market followed the lead of stocks today and retreated to a moderately lower level.

While there were some rather drastic reactions in the more speculative groups, higher grade bonds generally followed a narrow range with price changes limited to fractions.

Notwithstanding the gyrations of the low-priced department, trading volume tended to dwindle on the decline. Sales totaled only $10,167,000, par value, while the average for 60 corporate bonds was off two-tenths of a point.

The utilities were unsettled by the weakness of International Telephones which lost from 3 to 1½ points.

In the foreign section, the Argentines reacted moderately, along with the Australians, after several days of steady advances.

United States government obligations were fairly active and steady. Liberty 4th 4¼s reached another new high for the year on a fractional gain.

Reading company's August statement reveals an increase in net operating income as compared with the same month of 1931, and marks the seventh consecutive month of such improvement. The net of $1,069,719 compares with $446,073 in the same month last year, and $649,779 for July this year. It is reported that Reading's September car loadings have been running ahead of August, though well below the same month last year.

CALL of the WEST

her fingers to her lips in the manner of her pig-tail days she whistled. Dudley looked up and saw her. He waved and sent the roan galloping up the hill.

"Where did you get my horse?" she greeted him.

"Just borrowed him." A look of pride came into Dudley's face. "I had to show this brute I could ride him."

"Didn't he object?" Dona smiled.

Dudley answered with a frank grin. "That bird, Malloy, down at the corral says you took all the fight out of him."

Dona leaned down over the porch rail and patted the roan. "Don't ever try to shoot while you're riding him," she warned.

"I may do just that." There was a determined look in Dudley's eyes. "I've been practicing with a rifle."

"You're not going out, Dudley. I need you too badly."

"How is your father?" Dudley asked evasively. "Not worse?"

DONA shook her head. "Dad is going to be fine. He's already swearing vengeance and that's a good sign." She gave Dudley a red-lipped smile. "I just don't want you to go out. Ball knows every foot of Folly Mountain and he's not above shooting from behind a tree."

Dudley sensed his advantage and pushed it. "I'll just about have to. Remember I have a bargain to keep and a prize to win!"

Dona's clear eyes clouded. "We can think of that later," she promised, "but you have to be careful."

Dudley felt he had made his point and rode away with his shoulders square. Dona watched him cross the clearing and enter the scrub growth beyond. She was a little worried about him and when Swergin came around the corner she asked the timber boss to keep an eye on him.

"Got too many fools loose around here. Takes all my time keeping them from getting killed The posse will never round up Ball if I don't get out and help them!" Swergin's humor was no better than on the previous night.

Dona returned to her father's room and sat beside him until he woke. She brought him broth and read an old newspaper to him. He was feeling better and was eager to try sitting up. It was late evening before he fell asleep and she was able to slip away. Dona was very tired. She had missed Dudley's aid and began to wonder where he was. On the porch she met Swergin who was coming in to make up a time sheet for his posse.

"Have you seen Mr. Winters?" she asked.

"Malloy down at the corral says he hasn't come in yet," Swergin answered and went on to his office.

Dona sat down suddenly. She was beginning to develop nerves. Dudley should have been back hours ago. She remembered the events of the day before and fear gripped her heart. Had Dudley tried the same foolish stunt her father had attempted?

Spartans and Wolverines Prepare for Big Game

STATE FEARING AERIAL DISPLAY

Crowley Gives His Team Long Drill Monday On Defense

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Michigan State today began the final stages of its preparation for the Michigan game Saturday with results that were anything but pleasing to Coach James H. Crowley and his assistants.

The annual weakness of the Spartans against the forward pass returned this afternoon as Crowley's men struggled over a heavy field and through a steady drizzle to knock down balls that blackened the skies. The malady of completed passes was so bad that Crowley threatened to send his star quarterback, Jerry Jones to the second or third team. Another star, Bernard McNutt, fullback, was also warned to improve his defense for the overhead game.

Crowley is convinced that if Michigan wins it will be through the air. With ends like Petoskey, Williamston, and Ward and a beaver of the Newman type, the Wolverine passing game is expected to be the best in years.

If his men flushed over their 93 to 0 victory over Alma Saturday, Crowley quickly removed the feeling today. "We're going to play Michigan Saturday, not Alma, and you've got to show improvement if we beat Michigan," Crowley said.

Line Coach Glenn M. Carberry spent a great deal of time with his latest candidate for end, Francis Mejers, the former center. Coaches were satisfied with the way the Muskegon boy held down his wing in the Alma game but add he is not yet apolished end. "He'll make good however, because he's a good football player" Frank Leahy, line coach said.

Crowley announced today he will hold two scrimmages this week for his first string, starting tomorrow and terminating Wednesday. Further scrimmage is possible for the reserves later in the week.

Rob Trelaak was in uniform again today with his injured shoulder much improved. He is expected to be able to take over his guard duties Saturday.

FACE REAL FOE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—A sirit of determination ruled the Michigan squad this afternoon as final preparations were begun for the annual battle with Michigan State. Reports brought back by scouts who saw the Spartans overwhelm Alma college Saturday were not encouraging to the Wolverines, who were told they will take a trouncing in the veneer unless they play heads-up football.

Coach Clifford Keen described the State eleven as "hard running outfit which can be expected to put up a great fight."

New plans were handed out to the Wolverines, practicing Yost Field House because of rain this afternoon. Coach Kipke exercised his lungs shouting encouragement and criticisms and other coaches took up the cause when Kipke stopped for breath.

Francis Wistert, giant tackle who proved to be the outstanding defensive lineman in last Saturday's scrimmage, exhibited a slight limp today and was excused from hard work. Stan Fay, star halfback who worked under wraps last week, showed signs of regaining speed, and was in the backfield running through new plays. Another encouraging sign to the Wolverine followers was the increasing activity of Capt. Red Williamson, field leader, who had been a mere spectator at workouts until today. This afternoon he was doing some blocking. However, Williamson was not expected to be ready to play at end Saturday.

BAER DEFEATS TUF GRIFFITHS

California Heavyweight Scores Technical K. O. in Seventh

Chicago, Sept. 26, (AP)—Max Baer, California heavyweight challenger, defeated Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, on a technical knockout in the seventh round of their scheduled ten round battle in the Chicago stadium tonight.

Griffiths, floored in the sixth round just before the bell rang, was a target for the sharp shooter from the west in the seventh. Referee Collins, to save Griffiths from further punishment, ended the uneven battle after Baer had cracked him with solid lefts and rights to the chin.

In the semi-windup Charley Retzlaff, Duluth dynamiter, made short work of Les Kennedy of Los Angeles, disposing of him on a technical knockout in the second round.

Kennedy, floored in the first, came back to absorb a terrific punching. Retzlaff knocked him reeling into the ropes at the start of the second and he slid to the floor. His seconds tossed a towel into the ring, ackuowledging that Kennedy was through for the evening.

Jack Roper of New Orleans, 197, disposed of Pete Wistort of Chicago, 205, in the first round of their scheduled six rounder, knocking him out with a barrage of punches to the head and body.

A featherweight named Jack Sharkey of Minneapolis outboxed Kid Irish of Chicago to win the verdict in their six rounder after being held even in the first two rounds. Sharkey came through to pile up a comfortable margin in the next four. Sharkey weighed 126 1-2, to 124 for Irish.

Yankees and Cubs Are Eager for Big Series

GRIMM AND MATES HEADING FOR NEW YORK

Aboard Cub Special, Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 26 (AP)—To the tune of cheering thousands at Chicago and along the route, Charlie Grimm's Cubs steamed toward New York and their big world series adventure tonight.

Despite a dreary, rainy blue Monday, more than a thousand fans jammed the Union station to give the team a noisy send-off at noon while en route across Indiana groups of fans gathered at almost every station to cheer the champions.

In direct contrast to the dreary weather, every one seemed happy and cheerful on the Cub special as it rolled along. Manager Charlie Grimm and President William L. Veeck headed the party of 74, including 27 players and coaches, and promised anything but a pleasant welcome for the Yankees in the opening world series battle at New York Wednesday.

"Every man is in shape and we hope to nab the first two games in New York and finish it right at Wrigley Field," Manager Grimm said. "We aren't afraid of the Yankee batting attack and are convinced our pitchers can stop 'em. We're under-dogs in this fight and I'm glad of that. We'll fight that much harder to win."

Grimm said he planned to send his regular line-up against the Yanks in the opening game with Guy Bush and Leo "Gabby" Hartnett as the battery and Mark Koenig at shortstop.

As soon as the train left Chicago, most of the players settled back to relax on the trip; some of the men, including Charlie Root, went in for ping-pong and were targets of an old fashioned razzing. "Woody" English, the bridge expert of the team along with Riggs Stephenson, also promoted a laugh by sitting on a photographer's flash light bulb.

Guy Bush spent most of his time smoking cigars and wishing for a hot day when he pitches the opener.

"Ah sure hope it's a hot day Wednesday," Bush drawled in his best Mississippi accent.

Wives of twelve players accompanied the party. Mrs. Grimm presenting each one with a sewing kit. When Mr. Grimm invaded the party, he was cornered and escaped a rough hair cut by quick base running.

The Cub special is scheduled to arrive in New York at 10 a. m. Eastern Standard Time. After getting located and some lunch, the players will go to Yankee Stadium for a workout.

OPENING CROWD TO BE SHORT OF MAXIMUM

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—They nailed the bunting to the front of hundreds of sun-lit boxes in the Yankee Stadium today, bore out the flags and tuned up the bands, for the world series show is back on Broadway again after a lapse of three years.

Down on the playing field of the big American League ball park the championship Yankees frolicked through the first of two workouts that will fit them for the invasion of the Chicago Cubs and the start of baseball's annual fall hysteria Wednesday.

There was Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in rubber shirts, their jaws chramping busily on a fine brand of rough cut, whanging baseballs into the vacant reaches of the right field bleachers where starting at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday the frantic faithful will rise and scream for a similar feat each time one of them comes to bat.

As big "Red" Ruffing, the people's choice to face Guy Bush of the Cubs in the opening game, joined Left-Handed Ed Wells, Danny MacFayden and Charley Devins pitching for the Yankees, the big and little sluggers, all in a gay mood, rattled the fences with line drives.

Echoes of these smashes, the shrill banter of the hitters, rang through the hollow park in tune to the hammers of the carpenters. The workmen paused to work each rousing clout into their own arguments. They like the Yankees.

Around the town the excitement and allure of the big series cropped out in the usual places. At the bleacher entrance the solitary wait of Bill Cunningham, from Kansas City, already in line several days for the annual honor of being No. 1 into the far-flung stands Wednesday, was broken by the apearance of Ruth himself, to autograh a ball for the most persistent patron of the series.

While the Yankee business offices were crowded with purchasers, the rush for tickets fell far below that of the three-year reign of the Yankees from 1926 through 1928, when a single strip of tickets, covering three games, was no harder to get than an audience with royalty.

This year there will be plenty of seats for the New York games for everyone. Prospects now are for crowds here ranging from no higher than 50,000 for the opening game down to 40,000 or so thereafter. Apparently the interest is there, as great as ever, but the $16.50 asked for a single reserved seat for the three home games stretches just a bit beyond the reach of many of the old guard. Most of them will join the bleacher line Wednesday morning, when the $1.10 seats go on sale with the $3.30 unreserved grandstand seats.

GOLFING CHAMP WAY OFF FORM

Helen Hicks Even Fails To Qualify in National Meet

Peabody, Mass., Sept. 26 (AP)—The qualifying round today was too much for Helen Hicks, the 21 year old Long Island girl who upset the golf world a year ago by defeating the great Glenna Collett Vare for the women's national title.

Weighted down by her crown, she suffered the first attack of nerves in her competitive career when she started over the Salem Country club course. Her first drive was hooked out of bounds and she went from bad to worse, finally ending up with an 89, which was 17 over par and one stroke higher than the qualifying deadline.

The field was led by Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., and Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, an unsuccessful semi-finalist last year who finished in a first place deadlock with par 77's.

Enid Wilson, the British champion and the most feared player in the starting field of 95, finished two strokes behind the deadlock pair with an easy 79.

A stroke behind the English girl came Mrs. Vare, who has won the title five times in the past 10 years.

Dorothy Richards, from nearby Weston, put together an 81 to get into tomorrow's match play and a stroke behind her came Mary K. Browne of Willoughby, Ohio, who held the national tennis championship three times before turning to competitive golf.

Iowa City—Scrimmage against a freshman team featured the University of Iowa football practice, as Coach Ossie Solem launched the final week of practice for Bradley Tech here Saturday.

Harris Will Pilot Tigers Again in '33

Detroit, Sept. 26 (AP)—Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris, was enroute to Washington tonight, his signature affixed to a contract to pilot the Detroit Tigers for another season.

Bucky Harris

Charles F. Navin, secretary of the Detroit baseball club, announced this afternoon that Harris had signed again to lead the Bengals, whom he piloted to fifth place in the American League standings this year after the so-called experts had predicted they would finish in no better than seventh place.

Harris succeeded George Moriarty as manager of the Tigers at the start of the 1929 season. Prior to that he had managed the Washington Senators for five years.

When he signed his contract today he squelched rumors that he would return to Washington next year.

The salary specified in the contract was not divulged.

Minneapolis — Jack Manders left the hospital today and came back to football but all the big fullback did was to watch his fellow Minnesota gridders at practice and trot around a little. His sprained knee showed such rapid recovery that he may be as fit as ever within a few days. The Gophers drilled on offenses in a light rain today.

Evanston, Ill. — Coach Dick Hanley's annual fall cold kept him away from practice today and Assistant Coach Pat Hanley sent Northwestern's squad through a light workout. Calesthenics and special attention to the linemen occupied less than an hour. Captain Pug Rentner has a bruised leg muscle and will not work hard this week, but will be ready to play against Missouri.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

The football season has not yet advanced to the point where any one peninsula football team can be designated as outstanding but nevertheless, some of the teams who are certain to make real bids for the U. P. prep title include Menominee, Bessemer, Soo and St. Joseph of Escanaba, at least. None of the teams can be counted out of the race, however—not even the Eskymos who went down to defeat before the Escanaba Parochials last Saturday.

—o—

This year St. Joseph can boast a football eleven that stands on a par with any in the peninsula. It is undoubtedly the best aggregation to represent the parochial high school in years, probably the best in history. Two victories, do not make a football team outstanding but if Brunelle's squad continues to flash the same brand of ball that they displayed so far plus the natural development that usually results during a season, the purple and gold banner should fly mighty high, wide and handsome.

—o—

The setback suffered by the Eskymos also may tend to be a mighty good thing for them. Bet a cookie they don't get caught napping on shoestring passes any more this season. Coach Nordberg's team showed that they pack a strong running attack and it can be assumed that the proper seasoning will convert them from a mediocre team now to a team to be feared before many more Saturdays have elapsed.

—o—

St. Joseph is idle next Saturday and the Eskymos play at Marquette. The Escanaba Rangers will provide the football amusement for the fans this week-end when they oppose the strongest independent football team that the Soo Bears have produced. And that's saying plenty.

—o—

St. Joseph has passed one giant obstacle in their path to upper peninsula football glory but many more lie ahead. In Newberry St. Joseph will find a load of tough opposition in addition to Gladstone, Norway and Kingsford among others.

—o—

When the Eskymos play at Marquette next Saturday, they will officially open their class B conference race. The Graveraets won from Ishpeming last Saturday, 13 to 0, thereby chalking up their first football victory in two seasons. Unless our "hunch" is all wrong, the Graveraets will still have recorded one victory in two seasons after the game Saturday.

Len Koenecke was recalled from the Jersey City club by the Giants during the last week of the league chase and played in the closing games for the Giants. In the 95 games that Koenecke played at Jersey City, he was up to bat 355 times officially, clouted out 126 hits for a batting average of .355, batted in 65 runs and stole 13 bases.

At Battle Creek, Mich.: Chicago Cardinals 19; Battle Creek Maroons 0.
At Stapleton, N. Y.: Brooklyn Dodgers 7; Stapleton 0.
At Portsmouth, Ohio.: Spantans 7; New York Giants 0.

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 26 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Professional Football league, today played to a scoreless tie with their traditional rivals, the Chicago Bears.

The game was featured by many spectacular plays, which netted both teams much yardage in mid field. But trick offensives were futile near the goal lines. Broncho Nagurski's plunging to give the Bears three straight first downs was the highlights of the game.

Cardinals Win Game

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 25 (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals, National League football team, defeated the Battle Creek Maroons before 2,000 persons here today, 19 to 0. The Cardinals made 14 first downs to the locals' one.

Chuck Bennett, all-American halfback at Indiana three years ago, enabled Battle Creek to make its single first down on two line plunges late in the final period.

Hill, Holm and McNally scored touchdowns for the Chicago eleven.

Benny's Team Wins

Stapleton, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—Held scoreless for three periods Benny Friedman's Broklyn Dodgers broke through in the last quarter to score a 7 to 0 victory over Stapleton in a National Professional Football League game here today.

With Jack Grossman, former Rutgers star, doing most of the work in the fourth period, the Dodgers carried the ball 40 yards to Stapleton's 20 yard line. A pass from Wilberg to Friedman gained 18 yards and Grossman then scored the touchdown on a wide end sweep. Friedman kicked the point.

ALEXANDER IS BATTING CHAMP

Boston Clouter Defeats Foxx for Honors by Scant Margin

Chicago, Sept. 26 (AP)—Irvin Howe, the veteran dealer in baseball statistics, checked and double checked his record books today but the cold figures named Dale Alexander of Boston as batting champion of the American League by 32 thousands percent over Jimmy Foxx of Philadelphia.

The final statistics, largely official, gave the standings of the two close rivals as follows:

	G	AB	H	Pct.
Alexander	124	392	144	.3673
Foxx	154	585	213	.3641

Alexander's record checked with the official box scores through September 16. After those games, the unofficial box scores were used in checking the averages and in each case, the box scores were closely examined for errors without success.

In his 22 years as official statistician of the American League, Howe never has missed naming the batting champion, his semi-official records checking accurately with the final, official averages. That record for accuracy and Alexander's slight lead seemed insurance enough tonight that Alexander was the 1932 king of base hits in the American as well as the National League. Even if another base hit should be credited to the Philadelphia first baseman, his average would be .3658.

There is no hard and fast rule in the number of games a player must compete in to be eligible to the batting championship but Howe fixes it at 100 or more games. Thus, Alexander is easily eligible for the crown although his record shows that he was in 30 fewer games than the Athletic first baseman.

Howe expects to have the complete official set of box scores within a month but no change in the standings of Alexander and Foxx.

"There isn't much of an outside chance for a mistake," he said. "Every box score supplied us by the Associated Press balances perfectly."

Madison, Wis.—Almost the entire practice session in the Wisconsin camp was devoted to a workout for the ends and tackles. End Coach Lynch is still dissatisfied with the defensive work of the wings and Coach Spears is concerned over the tackles.

Chicago, Sept. 25 (AP)—His pleasure over the work of his backs last Saturday offset by the unsatisfactory performances of the ends, Coach A. A. Stagg today spent two sessions on the University of Chicago wingmen.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS

ROUND ONE: Walker, paying no attention to the size of the German, jumped right into him with two left hooks to the body and a short left to the side. Moving slowly and carefully, Schmeling banged Walker's body in a clinch.

As they pulled away Max ripped into Walker with both hands, smashing his right to the head, shaking the little Irishman with a volley of whistling hooks to the jaw. Mickey shook his head, held for a moment, then whaled back in again with a thudding hook to the body Schmeling claimed was low. Walker rolled away from a right hand smash and ripped his left to his chin. Schmeling floored Walker with a right to the chin for a count of six, the bell ending the round stopping the motion of the timekeeper's arm.

Mickey went to his corner unassisted and seemed not badly hurt.

ROUND TWO: Cool and with great care Schmeling followed the dancing Irishman watching for a chance to land his right. Mickey clapped Schmeling on the chin with a right and belted his body in close quarters. A right flushed to the chin staggered Walker. The little fellow with the pug dog features fought back gamely but again Max nailed him with three straight rights. Walker was wobbly, badly hurt, but he flung himself on the big German Belting away at Schmeling's body. Max ripped his back with a half dozen uppercuts in close. As they pulled away Max whaled three more rights at Walker's head but Mickey shook them off and stormed back to close quarters. He pinned Schmeling on the ropes and was hammering his head and body in a great rally that set the crowd in an uproar as the bell sounded.

ROUND THREE: The swarthy faced German walked slowly out to pin Walker's arms as Mickey rushed to close quarters. Walker bounced a left hook off the careful Teuton's chin but took another sharp right on the jaw. They clipped each other's body at close quarters and Walker dropped a short right on Schmeling's chin as they pulled away. Walker leaped in with a left hook to the head and again they slugged at close quarters where Mickey's experience gave him a decided advantage. The little fellow nailed Schmeling's chin with a perfectly timed uppercut and swarmed in on him again, drilling to the body. Max tried to catch Walker with his right as the Irishman tore in but it landed hard on Mickey's temple. They were pumping away at the bell.

ROUND FOUR: Frantically, Doc Kearns in Walker's corner pleaded with Mickey to continue his fight at close quarters. Mickey promptly dug a left hook in Schmeling's body and caught a hard right on the chin. As Walker bounded in again Schmeling met him with a sharp left hook to the jaw, but Mickey sneaked over both hands to the head in close. They locked heads and swung fists to the body. Gaining momentum with every charge Walker shook off two smashing rights to the head to hammer Shmeling across the ring as the crowd roared at his brave stand. He had the Teuton slightly befuddled as he danced around him and suddenly whipped into close quarters with his sharp left hooks to the body. They were in a clinch at the bell.

ROUND FIVE: Schmeling was wild with a left hook and Mickey slipped in close to nail him with a right uppercut. Walker nearly floored Schmeling with a left hook to the body that echoed all over the arena. Schmeling bent in pain as Walker ripped him around the ring, flailing at the German's head and sides with both hands. Max covered desperately, his arms wrapped around his head, but he finally fought Walker back in a torrid head to head slugfest that set the crowd a howling. Mickey sunk another left hook deep in Schmeling's body and shot the German's head back with a left hook. As Mickey shot home another left hook Schmeling knocked his mouthpiece from between his teeth with a glove hand smash to the jaw. Walker took another hard left to the head at the bell.

ROUND SIX: The crowd roared at Walker's grand comeback as they met in the ring and thumped to the body. Schmeling became more aggressive and shot his right to Walker's head as Mickey landed a left hook to the chin. A short right opened a gash in Walker's upper lip but he brushed the blood away and bounced into Schmeling with another harsh left hook to the body. There was new fire in Schmeling's attack as he jabbed Walker with his left to the head a half dozen times and forced Mickey to cover. They traded lefts and rights to the head in a blistering exchange and blood flowed freely from Walker's lips. Again they locked heads at close quarters and punched to the body. Walker drilled a right and left to the body as the bell rang.

ROUND SEVEN: Schmeling jabbed away at Walker's face, apparently in an effort to widen the deep cut in Mickey's lip, but Walker met him on even ground and banged three left hooks to the body. Walker traded rights to the head with the Teuton and then drove him across the ring with a thunderous body attack. He pinned Schmeling to the ropes and shot his head back with uppercuts, lefts and rights to the jaw. Schmeling got away and again they traded rights to the head before Mickey got the upper hand and flailed Schmeling with both hands. Both took tremendous rights to the head, apparently without flinching, flinging to close quarters as the crowd roared again and the bell sounded.

ROUND EIGHT: Schmeling jabbed Mickey neatly on the nose and rammed his right to the jaw. Walker bounced right back at him with a left to the chin but again the German shot his head back, with rights which sent Walker reeling. Mickey went down for a count of six under a right to the chin. He was almost helpless as Schmeling smashed him about the ring, his left eye closed. Another right floored Walker for a count of nine. Schmeling followed the helpless little man trying to nail him. Walker heeled and stumbled from one side of the ring to the other gamely firing but in a terribly weakened condition. He stood up under a fierce swinging back but Schmeling could not put him down again. He was reeling in his own corner when the bell rang.

Manager Kearns refused to permit Walker to come out for the ninth round and Schmeling was awarded the decision on a technical knockout.

Klein and Foxx Picked As Best Of Their Loops

St. Louis, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Sporting News today announced its selection of Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, and Jimmy Foxx, the Athletics' new home-run king, as the most valuable players in the major leagues for 1932.

Chuck Klein

It was Klein's second straight selection in the National league, the first for Foxx in the American. Lou Gehrig of the Yankees who was chosen the most valuable in the American last season, was runner-up to Foxx for the honor this year. Both are first basemen.

Foxx was given a total of 56 points out of a possible 88. Klein received 46 points, barely beating out Lefty O'Doul of Brooklyn, with 40. Following are the leaders in each league as designated by The Sporting News:

Jimmy Foxx

National—Chuck Klein, Philadelphia 46; Lefty O'Doul, Brooklyn 40; Pie Traynor, Pittsburgh 31; Bill Terry, New York 19; Lon Warneke, Chicago 16.

American—Jimmie Foxx, Philadelphia 56; Lou Gehrig, New York 47; Earl Averill, Cleveland 29; Charley Gehringer, Detroit 20; Monte Weaver, Washington 19.

Escanaba Rangers To Face Soo Bears Here Next Sunday

The Escanaba Rangers will meet the powerful Soo Bears here next Sunday in the second game of the year for the local independent aggregation. The Rangers defeated the Green Bay Wolverines, 13 to 0, in the opener a week ago.

A letter from the Soo Bears confirming all arrangements for the Sunday game was received here yesterday by Manager George Geniesse and the full lineup of the visiting squad will be received here probably on Wednesday.

The Bears this year boast one of the outstanding teams of the peninsula. Always a tough foe for the Rangers, the Escanaba boys this season expect plenty of opposition from the Lock City crew.

ISHPEMING HAS LOST 2 GAMES

Four Teams Tied After Playing One Conference Tilt

By virtue of victories over their opponents Saturday three teams moved into first place in the standings of the U. P. class B conference standings with the Soo high school team. Besides the Cranemen, Marquette, Iron Mountain and Menominee share the top position in the standings. The cellar position is occupied by the Ishpeming Hematites, who already have lost two contests.

Marquette gained first place by toppling over Ishpeming Saturday at Marquette by a score of 13 to 0. Both of the Graveraet's touchdowns were scored in the fourth quarter, one after a Marquette lineman had fallen on a blocked Ishpeming punt and the other as a result of a Hematite fumble. Iron Mountain moved into the top position by defeating Kingsford 6 to 0. Kingsford, which already has one victory to its credit, displayed a surprising amount of strength in this contest. Menominee is in first place by virtue of its 13 to 6 victory over Negaunee. The Maroons made a belated rally in the last half to push over their touchdowns and conquer the Negaunee team.

Pat McGregor of Iron Mountain has suggested calling the conference the "Northern Nine." This name will probably be used to designate the class B league in the future.

The conference standings to date with the teams' total points follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.	TP	OP
Marquette	1	0	1.000	13	0
I. Mountain	1	0	1.000	6	0
Soo	1	0	1.000	6	0
Menominee	1	0	1.000	13	6
Kingsford	1	1	.500	13	6
Negaunee	0	1	.000	6	13
Manistique	0	1	.000	0	13
Ishpeming	0	2	.000	0	19
Escanaba	0	0	.000	0	0

KEIL PREPARES FOR MANISTIQUE

Starts Ironing Rough Spots; Kernz May be Out of Game

Gladstone, Sept. 26 (AP)—Faced with the possible loss of one of his main ball toters, fullback Kernz, for next Saturday's battle, Coach Eldon Keil yesterday started grooming his charges for their annual meeting with Manistique here October 1.

Although sore and bruised, all of the squad came out of the Newberry melee in pretty good shape with the exception of Kernz, who suffered a badly sprained left elbow in the first quarter and was kept on the sidelines for the major part of the game. Just how long Kernz will be out is indefinite and will depend entirely on how quickly the injury heals.

Ironing out of rough spots revealed in last Saturday's play is Coach Keil's object this week and ball handling is coming in for plenty of attention as six costly fumbles played a major part in the Newberry victory.

By the week-end the local mentor is confident that the eleven will be an entirely different aggregation, as far as playing goes, and they will furnish the fairly experienced Schoolcrafters a real battle.

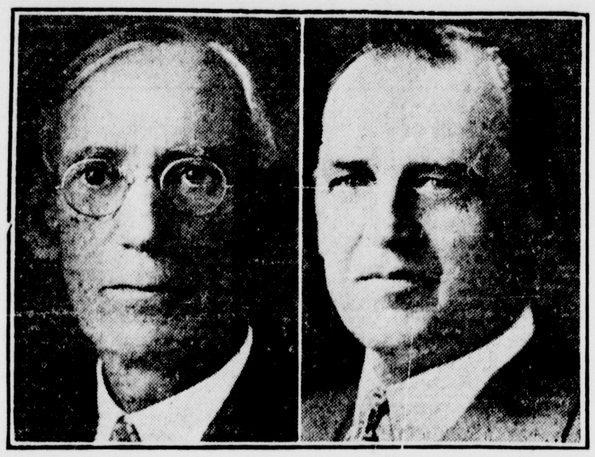
Slain Dry Agent Had Relative Here

Mrs. John A. Lemmer has received word that a cousin, James G. Harney, St. Paul prohibition agent, was found shot to death near Tamarack, Minn., Saturday morning. He had been missing since Friday when he separated from three other agents searching for operators of a still they had located.

James Harney was a brother of Malachi L. Harney, formerly prohibition administrator at St. Paul and now administrator at Chicago.

Two municipal golf courses at Bridgeport, Conn., yielded $17,643 in revenue in three months' time.

TELEPHONE PIONEER IS HONORED



James F. Martin, left, manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone company of Iron Mountain 25 years, will be guest of honor of the Upper Peninsula Telephone Pioneers at their annual banquet, in Ishpeming, Thursday, September 29. T. Ora Manes, right, telephone plant chief at Iron Mountain and Upper Peninsula vice president of Wolverine Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, will preside. Mr. Martin will retire from active service in November.

James F. Martin, manager at Iron Mountain for the Michigan Bell Telephone company 25 years, and a telephone official in northern Michigan for more than 30 years, will be honored at the annual meeting of the Northern division of Wolverine chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, which is to be held in Ishpeming next Thursday, Sept. 29. The Northern division includes all of the upper peninsula. The Telephone Pioneers are a national associaion of men and women each of whom has devoted 21 years or more to telephone work. Wolverine chapter is the Michigan organization. There are about thirty Telephone Pioneers in this portion of the state and approximately 600 in Michigan.

Mr. Martin, who retires from telephone service in November, went to Sault Ste. Marie as manager of that exchange in 1901, and transferred to Iron Mountain in 1907. During that period he has had an active part in the telephone development of the upper peninsula.

More than 75 Pioneer members and their friends, and a number of the officials of the Michigan Bell company from both the upper and lower peninsulas are expected to attend the Ishpeming meeting, according to T. Ora Manes, telephone plant chief at Iron Mountain, who is northern Michigan vice president of the Pioneers.

Among those invited are G. M. Welch, vice president and general manager of the Michigan Bell company; E. M. Gladden, general commercial manager, and Frank L. Curtis, assistant secretary of the company and secretary of Wolverine chapter, all of Detroit, and Arthur E. Huntley, Saginaw, Central division commercial superintendent and president of the Wolverine chapter, and other company officials.

Mr. Martin entered telephone work in the plant department of the Western Electric company, at Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1897. He went to Detroit as a clerk in the commercial department two years later, and came to the upper peninsula in 1901. He was born in Oneida, New York, and moved to Spring Lake, Mich., in his early youth.

Pastor Kills Deer

Sault Ste. Marie—Dr. John Ver Straate, pastor of the Sault Presbyterian church, is not proud of having killed a deer. He regrets it.

It happened Thursday night while he and John Bone were driving from Ishpeming. The deer, a doe, darted across M-28 two miles east of Strongs corner and Mr. Ver Straate's car struck it squarely. He was driving between 40 and 45 and managed to slow up some before striking the animal. It was quite dark at the time.

PAVING ON M-35 ALL COMPLETED

Last Concrete Poured Monday; 34 Days Work on Project

Concrete crews on M-35 between Escanaba and Ford River poured their last cement at 2 p. m. Monday, completing more than five miles of pavement on the popular lake shore road. The Escanaba end of the new pavement is within the city limits, less than a mile south of the high school athletic field. The paving also includes an entrance to St. Joseph's cemetery.

The paving represents 34 days of work, less than six weeks time having elapsed since the Delta Contracting company first started work on the extreme southern end of the project, south of the new Ford River bridge.

The remaining work will consist of shaping the shoulders of the road and rounding out the ditches. The pavement is now open from the south end as far as St. Joseph's cemetery, and a detour will allow necessary traffic to pass through from Escanaba until the last piece of pavement is opened over the coming week-end.

GARDEN NEWS

Heavy Farm Crops

Garden, Mich. (Special)—Perhaps never before has there been such an abundance of corn, tomatoes, melons and various other crops on the Garden peninsula, as have been raised during the past season. For several years past, it has been noticed that the aggregate acreage planted to corn has gradually increased and the past season has been no exception to this theory. Not only has the amount of corn planted been greater than in former years but the quality has been much better than the average crop. Our attention has been called to a field of corn on the Ed. Goff farm at Kate's Bay. Though this was planted late it has made a wonderful growth, attaining the enormous height of thirteen or fourteen feet. Some of the large ears, standing six feet and more above the ground, are nearly ripe. The seed was sent here by Mr. Goff's father who lives in Kentucky. It was at first thought that this was the tallest corn ever grown on the peninsula but the Mercier brothers of Puffy Creek also have a field of corn which passed the thirteen foot mark some time ago and it would need some careful measuring to decide which was the taller. On the Martin Birk farm at Fayette, where good corn has been ripened for several past years there is again an excellent crop of ripe field corn. Across the road from this farm is the Ed Laux farm, where good crops of sweet corn have been raised for many years. This fall again, many thousands of ears have been placed upon the tables of Delta and Schoolcraft residents from this farm. Truck farmers, including Herman Winter and Bernie Pizzala of Sac Bay, Paul Lamkey of Van's Harbor as well as a number of others have produced corn for market. A large number of farmers and householders have raised corn in quantities sufficient to furnish a liberal supply for their own tables. Never before have there been so many ripe tomatoes of high grade on the peninsula as during the past month. Actual figures are not yet available but it is believed that Charles Laux of Fayette will take the lead so far as quantity is concerned. His product has been of the very best quality, finding a good market as far away as Munising. Other truck farmers have raised large quantities and practically every farmer and householder here has had his or her patch so that there has been no local market for this product. Some of the choicest musk melons have been raised on the Herman Winter farm at Sack Bay and also on the Bergesen farm at Kate's Bay. An increasing number of farmers have raised a few for home consumption. Farm crops generally have been above average. Wild fruits, blueberries, strawberries, raspberries and blackberries have been exceedingly plentiful and have been picked and canned in large quantities. Large quantities of blueberries were shipped and also a few blackberries. One farmer Alex Tarczali has had the distinction of marketing several crates of strawberries as recently as Friday. In spite of the depression, this will be remembered not only for the depression but as the year of plenty, at any rate so far as locally grown fruits and vegetables are concerned.

Personal News

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Rathburn and three children returned to Green Bay Monday morning after spending the week end at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Labute of Kate's Bay. Miss Ena Labute accompanied them here and will remain indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley McCashum of Puffy Creek and Hugh Stevens of Calgary, Alberta, were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Mary Hennessey Thursday.

Hugh Stevens spent Friday with friends in Escanaba. He was accompanied by Carlyle Hennessey.

Fred Pizzala of Manistique is spending two weeks at the home of his mother, Mrs. Alice Pizzala of Sack Bay.

Joint Meeting Of Rotary Clubs Held At Gladstone Hall

Members of the Escanaba Rotary club and their wives last night joined with the Gladstone Rotarians and Rotary Anns in a most enjoyable joint meeting at the Legion hall at Gladstone. Following the serving of a very delicious dinner at 6:30 o'clock, members of the two clubs and their guests were entertained by an enjoyable address by Floyd Marble, of the Marble Arms company, in which he described a visit during the past summer to Yellowstone park and Alaska. While on his tour Mr. Marble succeeded in taking an interesting group of motion pictures, which were shown last night, as a part of the program.

M. J. Magoon, president of the Gladtsone Rotary club, presided at a short after-dinner program, in which brief addresses were made by President George G. Geniesse, of the Escanaba club, and members of the two clubs.

Menominee Club Quits

Menominee—Laying aside sentiment in favor of duty to the community members of the Menominee club at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday, September 20 at Riverside Country club voted unanimously to disband and become members of the local Rotary organization. The club's action brought to a termination more than ten years of uninterrupted progressive activity as a service club.

Fatal Well Fire Finally Squelched

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—The oil well fire which Saturday caused the death of Walter Miller, 28, and severe burns to two others, Monday had been extinguished with chemicals. The blaze started when a group of men removed tubing from Reed No. 4 well of the Pure Oil company.

The earliest known mechanical toy dates back to about 2000 B. C., and is of Egyptian origin.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.
